

Exploration Of Space Set For Hearing

Blue-Ribbon House Group Announces First Witness List

WASHINGTON (AP)—The military importance of outer space will be stressed next week when a blue-ribbon House group opens public hearings on exploration beyond the Earth's atmosphere.

The select committee on astronautics and space exploration announced today its first witness list — predominantly Army, Navy and Air Force officials.

Congressional sources said the witnesses can be expected to emphasize the charge made by key Democrats that the administration has not been "alert" to the military implications of artificial satellites and space vehicles.

Chimpanzee Passengers

The Air Force, meanwhile, is reported planning to place 50-pound chimpanzees into outer space as satellite passengers and bring them back to earth alive to determine whether they can stand long periods of "weightlessness" in space.

The project became known yesterday in connection with an Air Force call for bids on construction of "survival capsules" for small animals. Industry sources said the capsules will be released from large satellites — perhaps bigger than Russia's dog-carrying, 1,120 pound Sputnik II — to re-enter the Earth's atmosphere.

Gavin, Putt Called

Two major witnesses during the week-long House space hearings will be Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, former Army research chief, and Lt. Gen. Donald E. Putt, retiring Air Force deputy chief of staff for development. Both generals have emphasized the importance of space control in any future war, and have made it plain they will continue to press their objectives as civilians.

Chairman John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) said his committee will hold open hearings "whenever possible."

Youth Fails Detector Test In Slayings

CHICAGO, Ill. (AP)—A 200-pound, 6-foot youth held under $120,000 bond on charges of rape and robbery was reported by two Chicago newspapers today to have failed to pass lie detector tests in connection with two unsolved gruesome slayings.

Chief of Detectives Patrick J. Deely confirmed reports that Barry Cook, 21, who has been in jail since Feb. 26 when he was shot attempting to escape police, had spent nine hours in a private lie detector laboratory and questioned about four unsolved slayings.

Deely declined to disclose the outcome of the tests. He told reporters he was "happy about the results" of the tests in the strangulation murder of Miss Margaret Gallagher in 1956. He did not elaborate.

The Tribune and Sun-Times said Cook did not clear a lie test on the slaying of Miss Gallagher, 50, who was killed while sunbathing in Lincoln Park, July 23, 1956.

The papers said Cook's test on the torso slaying of Judith Mae Anderson, 15, whose dismembered body was found in two oil drums in Montrose Harbor last August, was inconclusive.

The papers said Cook was cleared of any connection with the murder of three school boys in October 1953 and the slaying of the two Grimes sisters in 1956.

Detectives shot and critically wounded Cook Feb. 26 when he fled as they questioned him about a series of sex crimes on Chicago's North Side.

Miner Killed, Another Injured In Slate Fall

PINEVILLE, W. Va. (AP)—The Eastern Gas and Fuel Co. reported that miner Harless Peters was killed in a slate fall last night at its No. 1 mine in Kopperston. Peters was from Pine Knob. Another miner, identified as Herbert Cook, was injured in the slate fall.

Five WACs To Present Uniform To Veteran, 111

FORT BLACKMORE, Va. (AP)—A black-haired old soldier, who in his 111 years "never saw a girl I didn't like," will play host Saturday to five gift-bearing members of the Women's Army Corps.

Their presentation to "General" John Salling, one of two surviving veterans of the Civil War, will be a new uniform that will make him a top officer in dress as well as in title.

The new outfit is an authentic replica of a Confederate general's uniform—made of summerweight material and loose in the waist as the "general" ordered.

The uniform was the result of newspaper stories last year in which Salling complained his wool Confederate uniform was "just too hot" for summer wear.

After reading of the spy old soldier's complaint, members of the Women's Army Corps at Ft. Myer, Va., formed a committee and collected contributions from 150 members of the two WAC companies on the base.

Money in hand, the Wacs set about ordering the uniform. They combed the archives of the Library of Congress until they found an adequate description of the uniform worn by Confederate generals.

Strangely, their greatest difficulty was finding an accurate description of Confederate gray. It turned out to be a powder blue—not gray.

Armed with a bolt of cloth, yards of gold trimming and Salling's measurements—"I'm 6-1 and weigh about 165 pounds. . . . Be sure the pants are large enough in the waist. . . . At least 38 inches. . . . as I like them loose"—a tailor set to work.

The finished product will be presented to Salling at the home of his daughter Mrs. H. A. McCamey, with whom he lives at the nearby community of Slant.

The only other survivor of the war, also a Confederate, is Walter Williams, 115, Franklin, Tex.

Elderly Pair Dies As Fire Levels Home

WAYLAND, Mass. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whitman Emmons perished today when fire destroyed their two-story wooden home despite efforts of neighbors who braved intense heat in a rescue attempt.

The bodies of Emmons, 78, and his wife, Helen, 74, were recovered by firefighters when the ruins cooled sufficiently to allow them to enter the burned structure. The Emmons have two married daughters living in New York.

The body of Mrs. Emmons was found near a second floor window. Fire officials said she apparently had opened the window and pushed out a storm window but succumbed before she could drop out the window.

The fire was discovered by a next-door neighbor, Mrs. Betty Russell, when she awoke between 5:30 and 6 a. m., to let her dog out.

Mrs. Russell tried unsuccessfully to arouse the Emmons and then ran to the other side of their home to arouse another neighbor, William L. York. York telephoned the Lincoln and Wayland fire departments and with Mrs. Russell raised a ladder to the window, where the body of Mrs. Emmons later was found.

Wet Weather Chills Nation

By The Associated Press
The early spring brand of wet and chilly weather continued to dominate wide areas of the nation today.

A broad precipitation belt extended across the southern part of the country east of the Rockies. More snow flurried in northern New England. Snow again fell in the northern Rockies and rain continued in the Pacific Northwest, mostly along coastal areas of Oregon and Washington.

In the major rain area, rain and drizzle fell in the central and southern Plains, with heavy falls in northeastern Oklahoma. Most of the light rain sprinkled sections of the lower Mississippi Valley and from Kentucky southward through Florida.

Nearly 3 1/2 inches of rain fell in Tallahassee, Fla., in a 24-hour period.

Two Predict Foreign Aid Bill Passage

Morgan, Vorys Say Cut Will Not Be As Deep As Previously

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two top House Foreign Affairs Committee members joined today in predicting committee approval of a foreign aid bill cut far less than in some recent years.

Rep. Morgan (D-Pa.), committee chairman, and Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) spoke in separate interviews as the House group prepared to start writing an aid bill next week after the Easter recess.

President Eisenhower wants $3,942,092,000 in new aid money for the year beginning July 1. That would be 42 per cent more than the new funds Congress voted last year after chopping more than a billion dollars from Eisenhower's request. The Foreign Affairs Committee cuts have ranged up to a billion in the past.

Finishes Hearings

The group has finished extensive hearings on the current bill. "I think it will come out of the committee with some reduction in the bill," Morgan said. "I don't think the cut will be too deep."

Vorys foresaw "some reduction but nothing like the wholesale slashing we have seen in recent years," and he said he expected the House would go along with a "cautious" cut by its committee.

Neither Morgan nor Vorys expects the committee to tuck on major policy amendments to the bill this year.

Some Bans Expected

Besides money cuts of various sizes, possible amendments to be offered would ban U. S. assistance to Poland and Yugoslavia, and stop arms shipments to Latin American dictators.

There may also be moves to channel more foreign aid spending directly into purchases of American goods and to split economic and military aid into separate legislation in the future.

Uphill Climb Seen On Way By Hoblitzell

MOUNDSVILLE (AP)—Sen. Hoblitzell (R-W.Va.) told a gathering of Marshall County Republicans last night that "already the bottom has been reached (in the recession) and the uphill climb is on the way."

He asserted that Democrats are attempting to talk the nation into a depression, "but if we let the natural forces take care of the situation, we'll come out on top."

Hoblitzell said the recession could not be overcome by spending and tax reduction, but that the nation needs hard selling by industry and a willingness on the part of those who can to buy the necessities to keep economic wheels turning.

The senator promised he would oppose any reciprocal trade agreements that will "put our friends and neighbors out of work." He stressed a need to protect jobs of Northern Panhandle workers from foreign competition, with particular reference to the glass industry.

Revised Tax Range Aired

SEARCHY, Ark. (AP)—Rep. Mills (D-Ark.), who heads the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, is recommending for long-range consideration a personal income tax ranging from 10 to 65 per cent.

The levy now ranges from 22 to 92 per cent, depending on the size of income, he said.

Mills, addressing the 20th annual Freedom Forum at Harding College here yesterday, said that he could not recommend a tax cut at this time. He said he would have to wait to see how the situation developed.

One of these days, Mills said, this country is going to have to begin cutting down its national debt.

Crane's Proud; Says Daughter Protected Lana

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Maybe I shouldn't say it, but I'm proud of my Cherie."

Steve Crane, handsome ex-husband of Lana Turner, made that comment last night about their daughter, Cherie Crane.

"She only did what I, you or most anyone else would have done," he told this reporter. "She was frozen with fear and she stepped in to protect her mother."

He was referring to last Friday's fatal stabbing of Johnny Stompanato, Cherie, 14, told police she stabbed the former Mickey Cohen henchman when he threatened to disfigure or kill her mother.

"Cherie loves Lana," said Crane. "I know I would have moved the same way to protect my own mother in a similar situation."

Wife Killer Weds Young Sweetheart

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—A convicted wife killer married his 23-year-old sweetheart in county jail here yesterday.

An hour after the ceremony, Richard Larry Hunt was taken to Trenton State Prison to begin serving a life sentence for the murder of his first wife, Helen.

Hunt, 28, won't be eligible for parole until 1971.

He and Joanne Campbell, both of Baltimore, exchanged vows while a guard and a member of the sheriff's staff served as witnesses. The Rev. Robert B. Miquard of the New Brunswick Bible Church officiated.

Hunt was dressed in the black suit and tie that his bride had brought for him. It was the same suit he wore Tuesday, when Judge Klemmer Kalleissen pronounced the life sentence.

Joanne wore a full-length white wedding gown. Both smiled happily after the simple ceremony.

Then they spent an hour alone in the jail's visiting room, where a wire mesh screen separated man and wife.

Mrs. Hunt later returned to Baltimore.

Hunt, who was estranged from his first wife, pumped four bullets into her body while she was visiting a sister here on June 26, 1956.

The woman tried to shield their 6-month-old daughter Ivy. The child was struck by one of the bullets but has since recovered.

After shooting his wife, Hunt repeatedly clubbed her with the butt of his revolver until he was frightened off by police.

He was apprehended on the West Coast and returned here for trial. The Hunts are Negroes.

Lana Letters Imply Love For Stompanato 'Cooling'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Was Lana Turner's love for Johnny Stompanato cooling months before her handsome underworld boy friend was knifed to death in the actress' home?

Her letters to the 32-year-old onetime bodyguard of ex-gambler Mickey Cohen imply that.

So does an interview with the owner of the hotel in Acapulco, Mexico, where Miss Turner and Stompanato vacationed for two months.

Police say they are satisfied with the story that the husky ex-Marine was stabbed to death last Friday by Miss Turner's daughter, Cherie Crane, 14.

Cherie told officers she plunged an eight-inch kitchen knife into Stompanato's stomach when he threatened to disfigure or kill her mother.

While Stompanato was being buried in his hometown of Woodstock, Ill., police here said they were investigating a reported burglary at Stompanato's apartment.

Five Top Scientists Injured In Auto Wreck

BALTIMORE (AP)—Five high-ranking civilian scientists at the Army Chemical Center at Edgewood, Md., were injured last night in a car-truck accident near the base in Harford County.

All five were brought to Johns Hopkins Hospital here and two of them were in critical condition today. The five scientists were on their way home from work when the accident happened.

George A. Janesko, 24, of Lebanon, Pa., the driver of the truck, was charged by state police with exceeding 45 miles per hour, failing to obey an automatic signal and reckless driving.

He was placed in the Harford County Jail at Bel Air pending the outcome of the injured, Trooper William E. Seekford said.

The five scientists, all with a G-14 government rating, worked in the medical research portion of the Chemical Warfare Laboratory.

In critical condition with multiple head and multiple internal injuries are Dr. Vladimir Gordiyeff, 48, of Baltimore and Dr. Charles Hassett, 52, of Towson, Md.

Dr. Gordiyeff is a section chief in medical research. Dr. Hassett also is a lecturer in anesthesiology on the Hopkins staff. Dr. John Clements, 35, of Baltimore, was admitted to the hospital with multiple fractures, condition satisfactory.

Edward Metcalf, 44, of Baltimore, multiple lacerations, condition satisfactory, admitted for observation with release probably today.

Emmett Moore, 62, of Towson, fractured ribs and lacerations, condition satisfactory, release expected today.

Troopers Seekford and Theodore Moyer, investigating officers, said the accident happened at the intersection of U. S. 40 and Maryland 152, just outside of Joppa.

They said the scientists' car went through a green light and the truck going north on 40 did not stop for the red light and ploughed into the left side of the car.

Pennsy To Repair Pittsburgh Span

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad has agreed to repair the 62nd Street Bridge, damaged by one of its gondola cars, and determine later who should pay the cost.

The span across the Allegheny River was damaged Tuesday when a gondola car slammed against a steel support.

The railroad claims it is not responsible for the damage under a 1900 agreement with Allegheny County.

Easy Carpet Cleaning Discovery Hailed

What is said to be the easiest and "cleanest" rug cleaner, known as Blue Lustre, is available after years of research. Blue Lustre leaves no foreign residue to cause rapid resoiling. The pile is left open and fluffy as the colors spring out like magic. So easy to apply with a long handle brush (like playing shuffleboard) and is safe for all types of carpets.

Use Blue Lustre to clean the entire carpet or remove spots and traffic lanes. It's economical as 1/2 gallon of concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the Union of hands and the Flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Red Field Day

THERE ARE a number of things to be borne in mind as we think over the Russian announcement of a halt to nuclear weapons testing. First, the Soviet Union itself has just concluded an extensive series of tests. If the Russians operate on anything like the time intervals we do, then they probably will not be ready for further tests until next year at about this time. They know full well that we have no intention of abandoning our next sequence of tests in the Pacific this summer. Their test ban announcement is carefully worded, be it noted, to allow them to "reconsider" their ban if others — meaning principally the United States — do not follow suit.

IN OTHER WORDS, they may have no real intention of stopping tests at all, but are trying to capitalize on the propaganda value of this announcement. The day we explode our first nuclear device of the season they can say, sanctimoniously, that all bets are off thereafter, since we failed to join them in the ban. Second, as United Press reporter Joseph L. Myler reports from Washington, it could be that the "halt" in tests is also an effort to bluff us into stopping experiments that might soon produce effective atomic defense against long-range nuclear missiles. This hope could not be very high in the Kremlin, but it may have been regarded as worth a try. Propaganda pressures can indeed be heavy.

THIRD, AS THE Russians begin their propaganda field day over this dramatic maneuver, we cannot forget that even if they are sincere—a rather remote prospect—they are not necessarily contributing materially to the future peace of the world. Whatever a test ban may do for the future physical safety of mankind from nuclear fallout, it does not materially reduce the threat of war. Soviet and American arsenals still bulge with nuclear weapons, and their production goes on. Either nation, without ever again testing so much as an atomic bullet, could pour ruin upon the other. A test ban can only be a peace move if it represents an earnest beginning toward real nuclear and general disarmament, and settlement of outstanding international differences. And we do not have much reason to hope that this one from Moscow is in earnest.

Airman Courageous

NO NATION HAS YET sent a human being aloft into space but the United States has now successfully demonstrated that a man can exist for at least a week under the kind of conditions which he would find on such a venture. The Russians may have acquired valuable information on this score from the dog it sent aloft in Sputnik II. A dog is not a man, but many reactions are similar. And that animal actually rode in a space vehicle orbiting around the earth at 17,000 miles an hour. Airman Donald Farrell's experience was simulated, for he never left the ground as he lived for a week in a sealed three-by-five steel chamber. But since this "guinea pig" was really human, we may have learned a great deal more than did the Russians with their seemingly bolder experiment. Americans offer their congratulations and warm thanks to young Farrell for having the willingness and the courage to submit himself to this arduous test in the interest of the advance both of science and of his country's safety and welfare.

Safety In Jets

ONE ASPECT of the coming commercial jet age which the airlines don't say much about but nevertheless offers promise is the fact that aircraft maintenance should be a good deal simpler. And this may be reflected in added air safety. Recently a Braniff plane went down near the Miami airport after an engine caught fire. Later a big Delta ship bound from Miami to Chicago had to make a forced landing at Ft. Pierce, Florida, for the same reason. There are all too many examples of engine fires, and engine structural and mechanical failures, despite the very high standards of maintenance the lines try to keep for their piston-engine craft. The turbo-jet is a different story, with far fewer moving parts, simple structure, less chance for breakdown. It will be welcome.

Primary Object Of U. S. Is To Deter War

Editor's Note: This is another in the "Statesmen's Series" of columns being written by distinguished personalities in the government, national affairs, business and the military for Thomas L. Stokes, who is seriously ill.

WASHINGTON — As an amateur columnist writing in the place of that respected professional, Thomas L. Stokes, I should like to plead the case for greater faith in the effectiveness of our military strength.

There is no doubt in the armed forces that their primary objective is the successful prevention, not the successful prosecution, of war.

The most casual reflection upon the consequences of all-out atomic war will convince any thoughtful man that such a conflict is not war in the historic sense, but rather a tragic form of international suicide. Hence, today all of our military efforts are directed toward the prevention of such an act of pointless folly.

How successful have our armed services been in creating forces capable of achieving this objective?

THERE IS no question as to the great destructive power of our air retaliatory force provided by the Air Force and the Navy. Our Army divisions deployed in Europe and in Asia are ready to perform their part of the shield on the ground to prevent an uncontested advance into these strategic areas.

At home, we are increasing the strength of our continental air defenses, where conventional anti-aircraft artillery has been entirely replaced by surface-to-air missiles of much greater effectiveness. Concurrently, we have powerful air-naval forces capable of maintaining the freedom of the air and of the seas. This aggregate of strength should be sufficient to give clear assurance to the Communist block that any direct aggression against the United States or her allies will result in disastrous consequences.

IT IS DIFFICULT to believe that the realists in the Kremlin do not appreciate our strength and hence will not refrain from the deliberate initiation of general atomic war.

It is reasonable to assume that they have noted the great impression created in the United States by their recent successes in the missile and satellite fields. This recognition of their growing strength will no doubt encourage them to believe that the United States will be increasingly reluctant to employ its weapons of great destruction.

In other words, in a period of mutual deterrence where both sides have the capability of destroying one another, they probably believe that the United States will accept a higher level of provocation rather than run the risk of general war.

UNDER SUCH circumstances there will be an increasing need on our part for strong nerves, cool determination, and a continuing faith in the deterrent strength which we have invested in our armed forces. Only by understanding and appreciating this strength can we avoid being stampeded into actions which might seriously impair our national security.

It is important that we have the military means to deter these types of conflict or to deal with them quickly. Otherwise, we risk the piecemeal attrition of the free world and the ultimate loss of our essential allies.

If we do not have faith in the power of our deterrence, we may misuse our resources in hedging against the failure of that deterrence. For example, if after building strong deterrent strength, we then proceed on the assumption that we must prepare for its failure, it will be quite easy to bankrupt ourselves.

SO, IN OUR relations with Communist leaders, we must display faith in the deterrent power of our military forces. Our opponents must not be allowed to play upon our fear of general war. They must be shown that we will not accept greater provocations in the face of atomic blackmail.

If we are to preserve the peace, we must act boldly and resolutely, with the certainty that the Communist leaders recognize the unacceptable consequences of general war as clearly as do we.

Today, there is no place for the fainthearted in the seats of decision. Our leaders and our people must maintain their faith in the effectiveness of our deterrent strength and act fearlessly in accordance with the dictates of reason and of justice.

There is no need for America to become either a militarized or an intimidated state. If we all have faith in our power to deter war and act in consonance with this faith.

Cuban Corruption Remains Regardless

WASHINGTON—The pessimistic but realistic view in Washington is that Cuba's revolutionary situation will probably get a lot worse before it begins to get better.

Washington's embargo of arms shipments to Cuba solves nothing. The fundamental trouble lies much deeper in the graft and corruption which have plagued the island for 50 years.

Rebel leader Fidel Castro, the young university man now trying to seize power in Cuba, began with a program to clean up the government of President Fulgencio Batista.

General Batista, when an army sergeant back in the 1920's, began his career with the same program—to end corruption in Cuban government.

The record was probably set by President Grau San Martin, from 1934 to 1938. His administration was charged with stealing over 170 million dollars.

When President Batista himself retired from the presidency in 1944 and moved to Daytona Beach, Fla., he was supposed to be a mere seven or eight million dollars richer.

YET WHEN Batista returned to Cuba in 1952, his program was still the same. It was to end the corruption of President Prio Socarras and his administration. The two million dollar mansion which Prio built for himself in Havana still stands as a monument to his record.

But there were two schools of thought about Batista's second coming. One was that he was still the relatively honest army sergeant at heart, wanting to clean up corruption in his native land. The theory was that he still had enough of a personal fortune left to give Cuba a relatively uncorrupt government.

The other theory was that Batista had run through his first fortune and had come back to Cuba to recoup.

Whichever of these theories is correct, Havana has been filled with reports of flourishing corruption since Batista's return. There have been no formal charges, probes or trials. The custom of the country is no one ever knows how much has been stolen until after an administration is kicked out and the emptiness of the treasury is determined accurately.

WITHIN A YEAR after Batista's return to power, however, Fidel Castro had become a revolutionary leader, protesting government corruption. He was then 26 years old.

In his first raid against a Santiago barracks, he was caught, tried, found guilty, imprisoned on Isle of Pines.

He was released by President Batista's general amnesty of May, 1955. He fled to Mexico and there organized his "26th of July movement"—so named to commemorate the date of his first unsuccessful raid in 1953.

Smuggled back into Cuba, he began his revolutionary operations from the mountains of southern Oriente, largest and wealthiest of Cuba's provinces.

THOUGH he is believed to have extensive popular support from university students, well-to-do and common people of Oriente, the odds for success are against him.

Even if he could seize power, it

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK.—They must have some awfully young reporters doing the top stories on some of the wire services. One service had it: "... Lana Turner, aging screen star. ... Lana Turner is 38 years old, almost exactly to this month. That's aging? Come to see me, bub, and you'll see someone who is really aging."

I saw a length of ski film on TV late the other night and all I could think of was long, long ago when watching a once famed ski-background film with the late Gertrude Lawrence, noted for a bubbling nature and a quick, warm smile.

But she sat in the dark projection room, watched the ski experts flit with the edges of crevasses, huge boulders and sudden cliffs and intoned in a deep, dead voice: "I don't care who gets killed."

THERE HAVE been drives to fireproof, accident-proof, rain-proof and explosion-proof your home. Now one of the larger chemical, bandage and powder manufacturers is crying out for the public to poison-proof its houses.

Most responsible for poisoning accidents and fatalities: cosmetics, regular aspirin, barbiturates, bleaches, benzine and turpentine, rodenticides, potassium permanganate, pine oil disinfectants, sanitizing agents, cleaning agents, furniture polish and floor wax, insecticides, roach paste and mothballs.

That list, lady, leaves you with cold water and a dry mop as your safe, principal cleaning agents.

FRIEND OF mine turned up in a new job the other day: David Taylor Marke will be responsible for public relations in science toys and electric trains, and oddly enough these two categories of playthings are governmentally held important now because they teach appreciation for and use of precision-tooled toys.

It won't be out until September, but there is a new magazine in the works. But Give The Cows A Chance

WASHINGTON — The U. S. Navy is a wondrous organization, full of milk-guzzling sailors, brass bands, butter, $25,000,000 worth of surplus armor plate, and thermoelectric couples.

Maybe you're like me and never heard of a thermoelectric until the admirals got to talking to the appropriations committee about where the money goes. These thermo dingbats apparently are on the verge of changing our lives for the better.

YOU TAKE TWO pieces of metal, one hot and the other cold, the way Rear Admiral A. M. Morgan, a naval scientist, explained it. Electrons from the hot iron bombard the cold one, and from the latter electricity flows.

That's a thermoelectric couple, generating electric power without the need of steam boilers, engines, or even dynamos. Silently and automatically, the juice flows from the cool metal.

"We are on the verge of a breakthrough apparently in the conversion of heat to electric power through thermoelectric couples," Admiral Morgan added. That means eventually vastly simpler power plants, cheaper electricity, and not only a new is considered doubtful that his victory would bring peace. For there are at least seven political and revolutionary movements now opposed to the Batista regime.

They were pulled together in a Unity movement last November. It fell apart in January. And the other six are now by no means agreed to support Castro's movement.

Castro himself is only 31—four years too young to head the government under the Cuban constitution.

essential to a modern fishing trip. It comes to 59 things, including a deck of cards, tranquilizers and portable radio, not to mention a dime so that you can call your wife and tell her (a) you miss her or (b) you will be home later than you said.

AN OLD, sometimes raffish and on occasion disarming friend finally has broken silence and revealed all in the current issue of Esquire.

Errol Flynn bars nothing and bares all, with surges of piquant humor, using at least once a phrase he once used to me at 3 o'clock in the morning when we had been discussing the multiplicity of charges and rumors against him.

"I never deny anything, apologize or even explain," he said then, and says it all over again. "I have a credo: Never get in a squinting contest with a skunk."

As to why he made so many sword and swashbuckle pictures: "I just happened to look well in doublet and hose." On the bright performance in "The Sun Also Rises," which caused critic audiences to say that at last he was an actor: "I just played myself." On his career, which had been tottering until a year ago, "I never worry about money so long as I can reconcile my net income with my gross habits."

Don't take Master Errol too literally, his habits are never as gross as all that.

I DON'T KNOW what your doctor says and I don't wish to interfere with his dicta in your case or any other, but the Illinois Medical Society issues a warning that anyone subjecting himself to a low-salt diet on his own initiative and without medical supervision may invite disaster. Never do it, they say, unless your doctor says to do it.

Frankie Laine, singer, never espouses another talent unless that talent is so fiery and blazing that it will electrify the show business. This time he has stood back of a winner: Carl Eugster, Eugster, in one week, has had 15 of his songs either on the air or made into records. A sizeable accomplishment for anyone, including the revered and, niche-safe Irving Berlin.

Perils of a 9-passenger station wagon: My wife lost a hat, or thought she lost a hat, in Mexico last summer. Over the weekend we opened up the third seat. way of propelling ships, but a pleasanter life for us all.

THAT multimillion-dollar pile of spare armor plate results from other scientific developments. In this missile age battleships aren't much use and neither is armor plate, and the Navy finds, itself with 45,000 tons of the stuff, all three inches or more thick. This is about as useless now as so many tons of mustache cups, or hooks for high-butto shoes.

The Navy intends to keep a little of it for testing its new high-powered weapons, the Atomic Energy Commission will use some for secret construction work and the rest will be sold (the Navy hopes) for scrap.

AT LEAST one Congressman figured that, in addition to a surplus of armor, the Navy had an oversupply of brass bands. Representative Errett P. Schriver thumbed the estimates on the cost of naval music and he demanded to know what the admirals need with 34-count "em-brass bands, including the big one from the Naval Academy.

Vice Admiral H. P. Smith said the bands were morale builders. He provided a list of them, well-scattered around the world, and this caused Schriver to remark that he bet tape recordings probably could provide better music most of the time.

THE STARTLER, though, in the Navy is the way its sailors swig milk. I always had the idea (from reading too many history books, probably) that seagoing men drank nothing much but rum, hot or cold, with or without butter.

Every U. S. Navy man drinks every day, while on shore in the United States, 32 ounces, or one quart, of milk. While ashore in other lands, he swigs 25 ounces and while afloat, 19 ounces. Marines drink less milk than sailors do and that's official, and while we're on the subject, those sea dogs eat a fabulous amount of butter. Hardly any of it goes into hot rum.

THE NAVY intends to eat this fiscal year 7,800,000 pounds of butter, or about $4,800,000 worth, at 61 cents a pound. Captain Charles Peckham, who keeps track of such items, said he did hope Congress would pass a law allowing the naval cooks to serve some oleomargarine, so long as their clients didn't object. He said he believed the taxpayers could save $1,000,000 a year if Congress decided that oleo wasn't an illegal food for sailors.

The captain may get somewhere on this, but I doubt it. Too many cows.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—One of the oddities of the entertainment world is that after you become a star you spend less time being one than staying one.

Take Abbe Lane, for example. The peppery cinnamon head, Brooklyn's gift to the Latin tempo, has done about everything in show business except sell popcorn or carry a spear for the Metropolitan Opera.

She started in radio at the age of six. She has been a top dance band singer, starred on Broadway and been featured or starred in a dozen movies here and abroad.

Currently she puts in 20 hours a week onstage in a musical comedy hit, but she spends at least 40 more hours each week on offstage duties, and she's come to feel that a star has more chores than a farm boy.

HER WORKING schedule leaves her little time for the supposed glamor of a star's life.

Doing what? Writing business letters, going to personal appearance luncheons, being photographed and interviewed, giving benefits, reading hundreds and hundreds of new scripts, hoping to find the right one, holding conferences—usually heated—with agents.

"I have three agents—one each for television, stage, and the movies," said Abbe. "Each one naturally wants to take over your whole life, and agents are strong-minded people who know how to do it."

"Then I now have to spend an hour a day vocalizing—to exercise my voice. A singer has to warm up her voice just as a dancer does her legs."

ABBE IS SO WOUND up by the time her show ends that it takes her until 2 a. m. to unwind and fall asleep. She gets from eight to nine hours sleep every night, says she has to "merely to survive."

"I have a consuming passion for my work," said Abbe, who doesn't mind pleading guilty to being stubbornly ambitious.

How have she and her husband, band-leader Xavier Cugat, been able to combine separate careers so successfully?

"Cuggie bends," she answered frankly. "He can mold his career to fit mine to some extent, because he can play anywhere in the world. I have to go where the best role is. But he knew when he married me I wanted a career, and he accepted it."

"It isn't the material things I want out of life. Cugie can give me these. I want to be accepted as a rounded, accomplished actress."

"I want to be looked up to and respected—not be just another sex find."

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — As if the Democrats and Republicans didn't have enough disharmony already, Rep. Charles O. Porter, of Oregon, is trying to stir up some more—over music. The freshman Democrat from the Lower House is denouncing the senior Republican in the Senate, Styles Bridges, of New Hampshire, for using the Army band at a political party.

The Johnny-come-lately Democrat charges that the ranking Republican indulged in a gross abuse of privilege by having the Army musicians play at a reception that Bridges gave for a group of New Hampshire women. The newcomer insists that the veteran should have hired a private band if he wanted to entertain his visiting constituents.

Bridges, who has a laudable New England distaste for throwing away his own substance on entertainment, retorts that Porter is being downright "absurd." The GOP dean points out that he gave his party at the Fort McNair Officers Club and that the Army band would have been wounded to the piccolo if he had called in outside musicians.

SENATOR BRIDGES might seem to have a point, because I am advised by the Army that it just loves to play for members of Congress, especially those who can do something for the Army. It must have taken raw, red courage for the band to assume this stand, but then the bandmen are gallant warriors as well as musicians.

I am taking no side in the dispute for these reasons: (1) The Army band has long made itself available to many peculiar audiences, so why not for a right-thinking group of GOP women? (2) The musicians have to play some place to keep in practice; (3) I don't expect to entertain enough females at one time to require the services of a band. I submit this establishes my neutrality.

The only comment I will append is that Rep. Porter seems to have become obsessed with matters musical. The Oregonian has even made a frontal attack upon Marty Emerson, Secretary of the District of Columbia Federation of Musicians, because, in his Washington party-going, he hears songs about Texas, California, Tennessee, and Maine, but never about Oregon.

Rep. Porter wrote Emerson that Oregon simply has a "tuneful state song, entitled simply enough 'Oregon, My Oregon' but I am always frustrated because no band hereabouts ever plays it."

He enclosed a copy of the "tuneful" offering. I am no music critic, and can pass no judgment on the tunelessness, but I can read words, provided they are not too long, and the lyrics strike me as sheer horror. Unfortunately the words are copyright, so I can't inflict them on you, for which you should be devoutly grateful.

IF HE ISN'T NICE to me, however, I am going to dump "Oregon, My Oregon" upon Rep. Carroll D. Kearns, of Pennsylvania. He may welcome the diversion, at that, because it might help take his mind off "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Rep. Kearns, who—so far as I can ascertain—is the only member of Congress with a degree of Doctor of Music, suffers every time he hears the national anthem. He declares it is pitched so high that no one can sing it. It is pitched in B flat, which any high tenor can sing. But presumably there is a dearth of tenor voters in Pennsylvania.

Doctor Kearns wants it reduced a tone, to A flat, and is prepared to do battle with every tenor in America, if necessary.

Ol' Doc Kearns is a Republican—and possibly he might make a distinct contribution to party solidarity by negotiating a deal whereby the Army band pitches "The Star-Spangled Banner" one note lower in return for the privilege of continuing to play free for groups of GOP women voters.

Fire Destroys Half Dozen Stores In Business District Of Morgantown

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Firemen kept a close watch today over the smoking ruins of Morgantown's biggest blaze since 1927. Destroyed were half a dozen business establishments and apartments. A number of others were damaged. The fire broke out about 6:45 p.m. yesterday in the Jones Men's Shop on Walnut St. and cut diagonally into the rear of sev-the McCroby Apartments above that establishment, the Walnut St. Market, a bargain sales store and Luigi's Confectionery, all on Walnut St.

The fire also burned out the Jacobs Clothing Co., the large Singer Sewing Machine Co. store and Loudin Beauty Parlor on High St., with the Virginia School of Dancing on High St. among damaged establishments.

Caplan Men's Wear on the corner of High and Walnut, located in a 102-year-old building with walls 18 inches thick, escaped fire damage but was hit by smoke and water. The Dering Funeral Home on Walnut also was slightly damaged.

Volunteer fireman Red Roush of the nearby Westover department apparently was the only person injured as departments fought throughout Monongalia County battled the flames for four hours around the corner, before it was brought under control.

Roush was treated at a hospital for a cut on his hand.

The fire, which cast a pall of smoke over much of the downtown section, was Morgantown's worst since that which destroyed the old Strand Theater and other structures in 1927, with a loss estimated at a million dollars.

Four youths in Luigi's when the blaze was discovered alerted occupants of the McCroby Apartments. One elderly woman was carried from her quarters in a wheelchair.

Firemen said that only a calm night prevented what could have been the worst fire on record here. Numerous other downtown buildings, including the Morgan Theater, a short distance from the blaze, were evacuated as a pre-cautionary measure.

Firemen and police roped off a great portion of the downtown section to keep the crowds back, and voiced pleas over a public address system for the curious to remain away from the scene.

Love Of Cats Loses Wife In Divorce Case

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A man's affection for cats today resulted in his wife obtaining a divorce.

Mrs. Ellen S. Krepps told Judge Homer S. Brown that her husband, James, kept at least 10 cats in their one-room apartment.

"When I came home from work," Mrs. Krepps testified, "I'd have to remove them from the tub before I could take a bath."

Mrs. Krepps said she was given a $138 bill for extermination of fleas and was confronted with more cat food than canned goods in her cupboard.

The judge granted Mrs. Krepps the divorce on grounds of indignities.

Krepps formerly lived in Clarksburg, W. Va.

Policy Set For Buying

CHARLESTON (AP) — Bids on all state purchases amounting to more than $2,000 will be opened personally by Director Randall Baumgardner of the purchasing division, State Finance and Administration Department.

The change in policy was announced today by Finance and Administration Commissioner George B. Vieweg Jr. Heretofore, bids have been opened at the desks of individual buyers in the purchasing division.

"I think it more properly places responsibility for major purchases where it should be," Vieweg said. "And any questions by bidders that might come up can have the director's attention immediately."

ILO Will Open Branch Offices

MOSCOW (INS) — The chief of the United Nations International Labor Organization said today the ILO will open branch offices next year in Moscow, Argentina and Egypt.

Director David Morse said he had "good and fruitful discussions" with Soviet officials during a two-week trip around the USSR. He said the Soviet Union has the same problems in relation to labor and management as those facing other countries.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Saville Honored At Wedding Event

Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge P. Saville, 402 Grand Avenue, were recently honored on their 40th wedding anniversary with a surprise party given by their daughter and sons and their families. It was held in the recreation room of the Livingstone Church of the Brethren.

Mr. and Mrs. Saville were married April 3, 1916, at the First Baptist Church, by Rev. Loomis. Mrs. Saville is the former Miss Beulah Powell, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Poyell, Wiley Ford, W. Prize Winner To Dance At Friars Event

Jimmy Roberts, the Morgantown, W. Va., boy who won the $500 first prize last year on a Pittsburgh TV show, will appear on the floor show program of the Vendredi Gras Friday night at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Mrs. Donald Stillwagon, co-chairman with Mr. Stillwagon of the benefit costume ball for the Friars Guild of Cumberland, said today the 13-year old acrobatic star will appear in an eight-minute act that has special costuming and stage properties. Young Roberts made a big hit last fall at the Preston County Buckwheat Festival in Kingwood, and topped the "Amateur Hour" field in Pittsburgh. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roberts, Morgantown, Jimmy goes to junior high school and caddies at the Lakeview Country Club when not taking acrobatic dance lessons. His father is connected with West Virginia University athletic department.

The 40-minute floor show at Friday night's big "After Easter" Ball will get under way at 10:30 p. m. Table reservations should be made at the time tickets are purchased. This benefit social event has been a sellout for the past two years. Masks will be provided free for all patrons at the ballroom entrance. Reservations must be made in advance as no tickets are sold at the door. Music is by Loughner's Orchestra and there will be favors and souvenirs for all. Dancing will continue until 1 a. m. and masks may be removed at intermission. For complete information and reservations phone PA 2-2766.

Women's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist Church will elect officers at the meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at the church. The American Cancer Society's film "Time and Two Women," will be shown at 7:30 p. m. with Dr. Benedict Skitarellic, speaker. The film will be open to all women.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the LaVale Volunteer Fire Department will meet Friday, April 11, at 8 p. m. in the fire hall.

Mr. and Mrs. James Claude Twigg, 801 Camden Avenue, observed their 60th wedding anniversary with a family dinner at their home Easter Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Twigg were married April 10, 1896 at the home of the bride's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. John Nesbitt, Elk Garden. Mrs. Twigg is the former Miss Mary Nesbitt, Rev. John Kuhlman, Methodist minister, officiated.

They are the parents of two children, Arlie L. Twigg, Cumberland and Mrs. Mildred Neilson, Prospect Park, Pa. There are three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Lawyers Plan State Change In Crime Code

BALTIMORE (AP)—A spokesman for the State Self-Survey Commission says a staff of lawyers has to work on Maryland's criminal code with the aim of eliminating duplication of laws, obsolete laws and general confusion.

Dr. G. Kenneth Reiblich, executive secretary of the commission, said "ideally our work would crystallize the laws in language as simple as possible and still have the code complete."

Results of the study will be sent to the General Assembly with recommendations for bringing the code up to date," Reiblich said. The 1953 Legislature eliminated some outdated provisions of the code but at that time called for a further study of it.

The Self-Survey Commission was appointed by Gov. McKeldin to study operations of state agencies and laws.

Wild Monkeys Greet Emperor

OTTA, Japan.—(INS)—Two hundred and fifty wild monkeys swarmed down from the hills of Kyushu Wednesday for a 25-minute "audience" with the emperor and empress of Japan.

Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako, visiting Oita City in Kyushu, overstayed by five minutes a scheduled 20-minute stop-over at the monkeys feeding grounds at the foot of Mt. Takasaki.

The emperor bought peanuts and mandarin oranges with him and the monkeys, getting a whiff of the food, came bounding out of their hiding places in the hills and encircled him.

Morgantown Woman Wins Mother Honor

Mrs. Elsie C. Baber To Represent State In National Event

CLARKSBURG (AP)—The West Virginia Mothers Committee announced today that Mrs. Elsie Christie Baber of Morgantown has been selected the state's "Mother of the Year."

Mrs. Baber will compete in the "American Mother of the Year" contest sponsored by the American Mothers Committee, Inc., Mrs. O.L. Stewart of Clarksburg, state selection committee chairman, said in making the announcement.

Mrs. Ruth Dilmore of Wheeling, oldest of Mrs. Baber's five children, nominated her mother for the West Virginia honor. She is the wife of Colonel R. Dilmore, purchasing agent in the Wheeling area for the Hazel Atlas Division of Continental Can, Inc.

Mrs. Baber, 69, was the third of 13 children born to Lewis F. and Minnie Lemons Christie on a Monroe County farm. She taught school after attending Bethany College, where she was a music major.

Her husband, Powhatan Miller Baber, was pastor of the Christian Church in Princeton and later was minister of the Clarksburg Central Christian Church for nine years. After his death, Mrs. Baber moved to Morgantown with her five children.

Mrs. Baber has 13 grandchildren. Her other children include Mrs. Helen Young of Coleraine, Minn., Mrs. Jean Coffield of New Martinsville, Mrs. Betty Johnson of Baltimore, Md., and Powhatan Miller Baber Jr., the only son.

Baber, who was graduated from West Virginia University, is a foreign service official for the U.S. State Department. He currently resides in Lima, Peru with his family.

State's Mother Of Year Widowed Grandmother

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—Maryland's Mother of the Year is a kindly, fair-haired, 71-year-old widow with four grown children and 13 grandchildren.

The selection of Mrs. Grace Martin Hopkins for the honor was announced yesterday by the State Federation of Women's Club.

A native of Neshannock Falls, Pa., but a resident of Laurel for the past 33 years, Mrs. Hopkins was the unanimous choice of a special committee. She will represent Maryland in competition with 47 other winners in the national contest in New York the week of May 5.

Mrs. Hopkins, widow of John Howard Hopkins, a civil engineer who died in 1932, was chosen for her work in civic and charity affairs. She has worked in the American Society for Control of Cancer, Federated Women's Clubs, American Red Cross, Daughters of the American Revolution, League of Women Voters, American Assn. of University Women and other organizations.

She was graduated in 1909 from Westminister College in Wilmington, Pa., was a graduate student at Columbia University and taught Latin and German in the Pitts-burgh area for many years.

In addition, she found time to raise two daughters and two sons. They are Mrs. Laurence Cooper of Newton Square, Pa., wife of an engineer; Mrs. William Anacker, librarian at Pikesville Elementary School; Joseph Martin Hopkins, minister, composer and professor of Bible at Westminister College, and Navy Lt. Thomas Matthews Hopkins.

Coyotes Face Battle; Plane Pilots To Hunt

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—A poor critter doesn't have any chance these days. The Atomic Energy Commission office says pilots flying in small planes and armed with shotguns will begin an all out coyote hunt if the creatures don't thin out on the AEC's huge reservation near here.

Mine Operations Halted During Probe Of Fatal Explosion

CARBO, Va. (AP)—Operations of the Moss No. 2 mine of Clinchfield Coal Corp. are halted while federal, state and company mine officials investigate the Tuesday night blast that killed two men.

A Dante Hospital reported, meanwhile, that Vernon Short, 39, of Coeburn, one of four miners injured in the blast, was in critical condition.

Ralph Huffman, Clinchfield production manager, said the 515 to 520 men employed at the mine probably will not get back to their jobs until the first of next week. He said the investigation is likely to take the remainder of this week.

Killed in the "ignition" of methane gas were Jeff Steffley, 26, and Clyde B. Large, 32.

Company officials said the ignition apparently was caused by falling pillars transferring gas from one section of the working face to another. The blast occurred about 8 p.m.

In addition to Short, others injured were Trigg Large, 33, of St. Paul and James McClellan, 34, of Banner. They were reported in satisfactory condition.

Chamber Unit Hears Address By Economist

The Economic Discussion Group of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce heard a talk on inflation last night by Walter D. Fackler, assistant director of economic research for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

The control of inflation, he said, is still one of the most critical economic problems of today.

Even during recession, consumer prices continue to rise, he said, and the long run outlook is for prices to continue upward, with all of the evils which accompany a depreciating dollar.

The reason for this state of affairs, he said, is that prices are geared to the upward ratchet of rising wage costs. The system of wage determination which has developed during postwar years, he said, includes a built-in engine of inflation.

Wage Hikes Inevitable

Fackler said that in well unionized industries, substantial wage increases seem inevitable. Union leaders, he said, are required to compete with each other in getting a larger wage package each year than existing prices can bear.

Since World War II, he reported, wage increases have been about twice as big as can be absorbed by increases in output per man-hour. Under such circumstances, he added, rising costs are a matter of simple arithmetic.

To complicate matters, wages rise substantially in many industries on the basis of previous contracts, he said.

He said that even if wage increases in manufacturing could be offset by productivity gains, strategic wage bargains in manufacturing create indirect inflationary pressures.

In service, and retailing and wholesale business, he said, it is difficult to increase labor productivity as fast as in manufacturing.

Demands Justified

But workers in the non-manufacturing sector of the economy rightly demand that they not be left behind by industrial workers in the matter of wage differentials.

The school teacher, he said, is an example of what has happened as a result of widening wage and salary differentials growing out of present wage-setting practices.

The spillover of wage demands started by strong unions in key industries, he said, may be lessened somewhat by fears of unemployment in a period of economic slack, but will be renewed as the slack is taken up.

Ultimately the solution must lie in making both labor and product markets more competitive and flexible, he said.

It is impossible, he said, to discipline inflationary wage-cost pressures by national monetary and fiscal policy without creating intolerable pains and stress.

FOUND DEAD.—Major James H. Doolittle Jr., 38, son of Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, famed World War II hero, was found dead yesterday at his office at Bergstrom Air Force Base near Austin, Texas. He had been shot through the right temple with a .38 caliber service pistol, found on the floor near his body. Air Force officials said an investigation has been ordered to determine whether the wound was self-inflicted or accidental.

Hanna Employee Faces Quizzing In Tax Trial

FAIRMONT — The manager of Hanna Insurance Co. in Charleston faced additional questioning by government attorneys in U.S. District Court here today in an income tax evasion case involving the agency's owner.

Homer Hanna, a veteran Democratic political figure in the capital city and president of the insurance firm, is charged with evading income tax payments in an amount of $31,777 for the years 1949 through 1953.

U.S. Atty. Albert M. Morgan said earlier that the government would attempt to show that Hanna or members of his family received checks from the insurance agency which were not included in income tax returns.

All money Hanna might have received in the checks from the company, defense counsel has contended, was in the form of loans.

E.A. McCandless, manager for the agency, testified shortly before court recessed yesterday that he knew of no records of expenditures by the company other than those set forth on check stubs.

He identified six books of check stubs as records of outlays by the insurance business for 1949 through 1953. McCandless was to be recalled to the witness stand today.

He was the 12th person to testify yesterday. Nine of the group were businessmen who were asked to identify checks on the insurance agency given them by Hanna in payment for services, materials and labor.

Bank statements of Hanna, who is clerk of the U.S. District Court for Southern West Virginia, and the insurance business were introduced by the government's fourth witness in the case, Louis Miller of Charleston.

Miller was assistant cashier of the Charleston National Bank in the years involved in the tax evasion allegations.

City Group Asks Ordinance Teeth

BALTIMORE — A city commission has suggested more teeth be put into a city ordinance barring racial or religious discrimination in employment.

The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission pointed out there are no penalties for violations under the present setup. At present the commission can investigate complaints of discrimination, hold public hearings, can use persuasion and ultimately issue orders.

"Persuasion alone is not sufficient," the commission's annual report stated.

The Hudson River is 306 miles long.

Suit Dropped By Politician In Libel Case

TOWSON, Md. — A half million dollar damage suit against publisher W. Fenwick Keyser and the weekly Union News has been withdrawn by Christian H. Kahl, Baltimore County politician who claimed he was libeled.

Kahl, who is seeking Democratic nomination for chief executive officer of the county withdrew the suit yesterday. He had filed it after being lampooned in an Oct. 4 issue of the Towson paper.

Keyser described the issue as a joke connection with National Newspaper Week. He said statements about Kahl and other politicians were intended to show readers the kind of coverage they might expect under a totalitarian form of government instead of a democracy.

Michael J. Birmingham, county executive, and Bruce S. Campbell, county contractor, have also named Keyser in libel suits for one million dollars each. Those cases are pending.

Military Control Might Follow Hit By Enemy Bombs

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The chief of the Continental Army Command has disclosed plans to assume complete military control over American cities if they are devastated by enemy missile or bomber attacks.

Gen. Willard G. Wyman said the Army will "conscript and commandeer" and apply "punitive powers" if civil governments prove incapable of functioning.

In a speech yesterday before a National Association of State and Territorial Civil Defense Directors, Wyman conceded such action "may pain a democratic society," but added that does "not diminish its quality of realism."

Cambridge Firm Opens New Post

BALTIMORE — Raymond J. Kenard has been named vice president in charge of finance of the Coastal Foods Co., Cambridge, Md.

James E. Glover, in announcing the appointment yesterday, said the new position was created as the result of an expansion program for the eastern division of Consolidated Foods Corp.

Kenard will be in charge of the budget, cost accounting and all other phases of Coastal's financial operation.

Review Proposed Of Military Needs

WASHINGTON — (INS)—Rep. John E. Moss III (D-Calif.) said today that the House government operations committee has recommended "an immediate and careful reassessment of our total military needs and obligations."

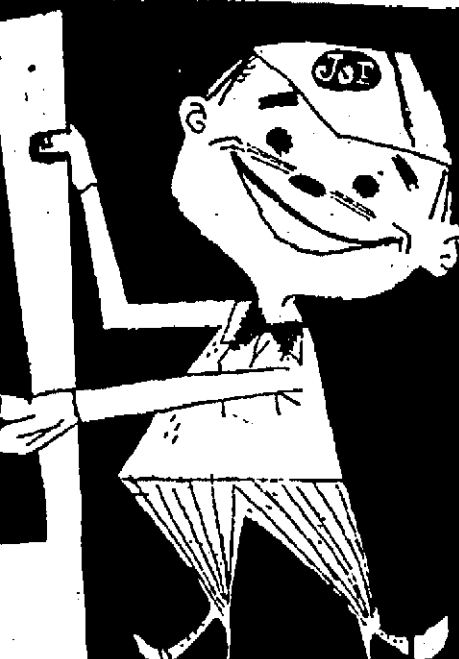

Moss, a member of the committee, said "it seems quite clear that under present methods of operation we do not know what we are attempting to accomplish through military aid in western Europe."

The California Democrat pointed out that in the committee's recent report it was stated that there is no comprehensive plan against which yearly progress of military aid in western Europe can be measured.

Roy P. Webber Given Promotion At Paper Plant

LUKE — The promotion of Roy P. Webber 2nd, to the position of assistant paper mill superintendent at the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company has been announced. He has been staff assistant to John M. Clabaugh, plant superintendent, for the past year.

Webber has been with the company since October 20, 1953, and at the Luke mill since July 1, 1956.

He first joined the firm at the Charleston, S. C., mill as product development supervisor but in August 1954 was transferred to the research department. On June 1, 1956, he was transferred to the research laboratory at the Covington, Va., mill and a month later was transferred to Luke as a project leader in the technical service department.

Last April, Webber was transferred from the technical service department to the paper mill and promoted to the position of staff assistant to the mill superintendent.

A native of Portland, Maine, Webber was graduated from the University of Maine in August 1952 with Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees in chemical engineering. He was a member of the first group to complete the university's five-year pulp and papermaking course.

Mr. and Mrs. Webber and their daughter live at 47 East Hampshire Street, Piedmont.

Contract For Church Work Is Approved

KEYSER — The contract for the construction of a $50,000 educational unit to be added to Sunnyside Church of the Brethren near here has been awarded to Gilbert Rannells of Springfield.

Rev. Owen G. Stultz, pastor, said the contract was awarded after sealed bids were opened at a general council meeting Tuesday night.

Other area contractors who submitted bids on the project were Ray Coffman, Keyser; A. G. Clark, Westernport; Shier Construction Company, Oakland, and L. C. Sines, RD 4, Keyser.

Rev. Stultz said construction is expected to begin by May 1. The addition to the church will include an extension of the present sanctuary. Plans also call for the enlargement of Fellowship Hall, two class rooms, boiler room, kitchen and rest rooms, all located on the basement floor.

The first floor is to include five classrooms, two of which may be converted into sanctuary space for overflow crowds. The pastor's study also will be located on this floor.

Plans for the second floor includes three class rooms, a balcony for additional seating and room for storage of equipment and supplies.

Land for the larger building was donated to the church by Mr. and Mrs. Glen McCoy.

The building committee which helped plan the addition to the church with Rev. Stultz consisted of Ralph Heishman, Berna Yerkey, David Whetzel, Mrs. Robert Bane and Miss Edna Mott.

Sunnyside Church of the Brethren is located on New Creek one mile east of New Creek on Route 50, and is about seven miles from Keyser.

National Guard Summer Encampment Set In W. Va.

CHARLESTON — The 1092nd Engineers of Parkersburg and Salem will be the first West Virginia National Guard battalion since 1939 to hold its annual summer encampment within the state.

Adjutant Gen. William E. Blake announced yesterday that the 1092nd will undergo its field training stint this year at Camp Dawson, a state-owned site near Kingwood, July 6-20. Commanding officer of the battalion is Lt. Col. George P. Black.

Blake also announced dates for five other National Guard summer encampments. First organization to leave for the 15 days of training will be the Air National Guard's 130th Air Resupply Group of Charleston, commanded by Maj. Ralph R. Cowgill.

As it did last year, the 130th will go to Otis Air Force Base, Mass., June 7-21.

Two encampments for West Virginia Guardsmen will be under way in Kentucky during the June 15-29 period. The 150th Armored Cavalry Regiment made up of units from 14 southern West Virginia cities, will be at Fort Knox, Ky., while the remainder of the state's Army National Guard will train at the same time at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., near Evansville, Ind.

Units at Breckinridge will include the 201st Armored Field Artillery Battalion of Fairmont, Martinsburg, Kingwood, Keyser and Moorefield; the 468th Field Artillery Battalion of Huntington and Williamson; the 193rd Engineer Company of Weston; the 3664th Ordnance Company of Pt. Pleasant; the 249th Army Band of Fairmont, and the Guard's State Headquarters Detachment at Charleston.

The Air National Guard's 167th Fighter-Interceptor Squadron of Martinsburg will train July 20-Aug. 3 at Travis Air Force Base near Savannah, Ga., also the 167th's encampment site last year. The unit will train there with Air Guardsmen from the District of Columbia.

The final encampment will be held Aug. 16-30 at Indianport Gap Military Reservation near Hershey.

PIEDMONT—"Bolles In Waiting," a three-act comedy, will be presented at Piedmont High School auditorium tomorrow by members of the Senior Class.

The cast, comprised of some of the schools' best dramatic talent, has been rehearsing several weeks, and the play is being rounded out for its local presentation.

The cast includes Mary Margaret Hokamp, Rebecca Bass, Elaine Metcalfe, Elizabeth Suter, Joseph Niland, Rose Sarfino, Patricia Elrod, Terrence LaRue, David Ravenscroft and Raymond Maynard.

Assisting with the production are Anne Drane, Carolyn Harrison and Laura Tibbets, makeup; Mary Frances Patrone, Mary Martin and Carol Kight, property; Nancy Greco and Wanda Shellingburg, wardrobe.

Harold Hoopengartner, William Bennett, David McCoy and Ronald Ross, stage setting; Robert Bryan, Rudolph Kasnier, William Loy and Ronald Ross, ticket committee; David Lambert

KEYSER—Two major Boy Scout activities are scheduled this coming weekend by Tri-Valley District.

The once-postponed five-mile hike will be held Sunday under the supervision of Leonard Johnson of Lonaconing. George McDowell, chairman of district camping and activities, has announced that the starting point will be Valley High School. Troops should arrive between 1:30 and 2 p. m.

Each participant must provide his own canteen of water. The Lonaconing Rotary Club, sponsor of the activity, will provide refreshments. The hike trail is mountainous but safety precautions will be rigidly enforced and inspection of clothing will be made.

A three-afternoon rifle instruction course for Explorers will be held Saturday from 1:30 to 4:30 p. m. at the Potomac State gymnasium. The second instruction period will be April 19. On May 3, all boys who have participated in the two previous meetings will take part in a rifle meet. Each boy will fire five rounds at ten targets at a distance of 50 feet.

Capt. Jack C. Fessenden and Capt. Thomas McBride of the Potomac State College ROTC Department will provide instruction, equipment and supervision. Master Sgt. Robert Good and Sgt. Cecil Roy will assist.

All Explorers who are 14 or older of the Tri-Towns, Keyser and South Branch area are invited to learn proper methods of marksmanship. Each boy must provide a blanket and be accompanied by adult leadership. Explorers are to be in uniform and on time, answer roll call and read the marksmanship merit badge pamphlet.

Dr. Paul Giffin, district advancement chairman, will be in charge, assisted by Fred Anderson and David G. Nuzum. Participants will report to Potomac State gymnasium.

Instruction for the first meeting includes: Safety regulations, sight picture, demonstration by college students, sling adjustment, off-hand and prone positions, trigger squeeze, proper breathing, triangulation and practice without ammunition.

and Richard Niland, program; Linda Forebeck, Betty Ord, and Carol Jean Niland, publicity.

Student directors are Anne Drane and Phyllis Price. Announcers are Mary Lane Saville and Betty Jean Shultz.

Peter Maguire, secretary of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (in 1882) is considered the "Father of Labor Day."

Lowry Heads
Keyser United Fund Chapter

KEYSER—The annual meeting of Keyser Chapter, County United Fund, was held at the parish house of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church here.

Newly elected officers of the chapter are T. Warner Lowry, chairman; David G. Nuzum, vice chairman; Mrs. James H. Swadley Jr., secretary, and Earl K. Hess, treasurer.

Dr. E. E. Church, CUF area vice president, welcomed those who attended the meeting and lauded the time and effort that Hess has given to the organization during the past year. Hess reviewed the progress of the organization and outlined plans for the 1958 campaign.

"There are nearly 1,400 United Funds throughout the country now," Hess declared, pointing out that the Red Cross participated in 936 of these, the American Heart Association in 401, and the American Cancer Society in 392. During the past year, he added, 97 per cent of all United Funds have met their goals, while 8 per cent raised more than they ever had previously as separate organizations.

Harland Ridder, president of Keyser's United Charities, Inc., announced that William F. Miller has been named executive secretary of the CUF agency, which has been expanded into a year-round organization devoted to the needs of the unfortunate. The City of Keyser, he said, has given a storage room to United Charities, which, after careful study of the methods of family service agencies, will serve as a clearing house for all legitimate appeals for help in its field.

Winfield H. Adam, executive director of County United Fund, Inc., congratulated the people of Keyser for the vigor and progress they have displayed in supporting their CUF chapter.

"What has been done by Keyser and other CUF communities in one year of action," he said, "usually is not accomplished by other communities even after they have spent several years of talking and planning." Adam discussed in detail the allocations that have been made to 26 agencies participating in the record-breaking $334,000 United Fund raised in this area last year.

Elected to the board of directors of the Keyser chapter at the meeting were: John W. Barger, Dr. Thomas E. Bess, Joseph Blundon, Floyd C. Boor, Robert L. Bridgers, Dr. E. E. Church, Mrs. Ray Coffman, Francis J. Crockett, Dr. Paul T. Healy, Earl K. Hess, T. Warner Lowry, Carl R. Ludwick, David G. Nuzum, Harland Ridder, N. Howard Rogers, William W. Schofield, Judge Ernest E. See, Charles W. Smith, Harold Snyder, Mrs. James H. Swadley Jr., J. Lee Temple, Arthur R. Tenney, Charles H. Vossler and Michael Welshonce, all of Keyser; William McDonald and C. Laurin Swisher, New Creek; Hubert Norman, Elk Garden; Earl Pritts, Shaw; C. I. Homan, Antioch and Tim Carskadon, Headsville.

Phone Company Announces
Proposed System Changes

KEYSER—A major project which will result in the conversion of all phones in the Keyser, McCoole, Piedmont and Westernport areas to a two-letter, five-digit numbering system has been announced by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, according to Fred Anderson, commercial manager of the local office of C&P.

The work is expected to get underway about May 1 and the tentative date for completion has been set as August 17.

Last November the Board of Directors of the C&P Company set aside a total of $42,000 for additional equipment in the Keyser-McCoole area, and $67,000 for work in Piedmont and Westernport.

At another meeting on April 1 the board approved an additional $85,000 to add inter-office trunk lines between Piedmont and Keyser central offices and the Cumberland and Lonaconing central offices.

Anderson said that a 130-volt power plant will be installed to provide power for the new trunking equipment. After the conversion McCoole customers will be able to dial Cumberland customers direct; Westernport customers will be able to dial Cumberland and Lonaconing direct, and persons in Cumberland will be able to dial Westernport and McCoole. Preliminary work has already been completed and persons in the area cities can dial their numbers through the central office. However, when the work is finished they will be able to dial numbers without going through the operator.

Plans call for Keyser's exchange to be known as Sunset-4 and Sunset 8 (followed by the phone number). McCoole will be Stillwell-6; Piedmont, ELgin-5 and Westernport, FLEetwood-9.

Several of the numbers in town will be changed and plans are underway to balance the office equally, Anderson said, thus distributing telephones through the equipment at hand to cut down on any delay in getting the dial tone and also eliminating some of the busy signals. All customers will be advised of their number changes by May 15.

The local telephone business office recently moved next door in the building formerly occupied by Photographer Coyd Yost. The former office will be used for the additional equipment to be used in the new conversion project.

Bedford Springs Hotel
To Open Season Saturday

BEDFORD—The huge Bedford Springs Hotel will open for its 154th season Saturday evening with the expectation that more guests than ever before will be accommodated at the hotel during the next seven months.

In line with its continuing expansion and improvement program the hotel will offer these new features:

1) A new dining room in the golf course club house. A golfers' breakfast will be served daily from 7:30 a. m. in the club house and the bar and snack bar there will be kept open from 9 p. m. to 2 a. m. each evening.

2) A night driving range. Mats will be spread on the first tee on the Golf course for this purpose.

3) Remodeled and redecorated, top accommodation rooms in the hotel. Harris Knight, hotel sales manager, said that the hotel now has "some rooms that compare with the finest in the country."

Knight said that the winter has been spent remodeling, refurbishing and redecorating the hotel in a program whose aim is to make the Springs "one of the better resorts in the country."

Knight added that he expected 1958 business to surpass last year's record totals. During the 1957 season, more than 50,000 guests from all over the nation and many parts of the world vacationed at the Springs.

Convention bookings, a major source of business for the hotel, are also running heavier than ever before, according to Knight.

Business Briefs

NEW YORK—(INS)—Prices on the New York Stock Exchange showed widespread gains in the first quarter of the year. The exchange reported that 918 common stocks advanced while only 142 declined and 30 issues were unchanged in the three-month period. The gains included 211 issues up 20 per cent or more, while only four stocks had losses of this size.

NEW YORK—(INS)—Socony Mobil Oil Co. reported today it plans capital and exploration expenditures of $435,000,000 this year, compared with $420,800,000 in 1957. The annual report for shareholders said that more than half of the outlay will go into the search for and development of crude oil and natural gas reserves.

NEW YORK—(INS)—Guaranty Trust Co. of New York today urged federal anti-recession action consisting of "the removal of artificial restraints, not the administration of artificial stimulants." The bank's monthly review suggested that the government resort to neither regulation nor inflation. Instead, it urged introduction of sound economic incentives that would avoid pumping by the government and enable business itself to contend with conditions encountered in the wake of a boom.

About Time

CARLSBAD, Calif. (AP)—Carlsbad High School is occupying its own modern 1½-million-dollar plant after 32 years of operation on a campus at neighboring Oceanside.

Hike In Sales Reported By Celanese Firm

NEW YORK (AP)—The Celanese Corp. of America reported sales about $48,900,000, an increase from $46,852,931 in the first three months of 1957.

President Harold Blanche expressed doubt that first quarter earnings would increase proportionately because of certain yarn price reductions.

"I do not feel these price reductions accomplished anything for anybody except cause more unsettlement and reduce profit margins," he said. "I look for a reversal in the near future."

Celanese achieved per-share earnings of $1.81 in 1955, $2.08 in 1956 and $1.94 last year, when the company received tax credits ranging from four to five million dollars. He said this permitted rebuilding the company surplus to record levels which in turn helped provide for expansion and diversification of product lines.

"Our task is to maintain—without tax credits—the level of earnings reported in the last three years with tax credits, and to go on from there," Blanche said. "I feel we can do it."

Cross In Its Stem

The cross vine gets its name from the cross which can be seen in the stem when it is cut. For this reason, natives of South America consider the plant sacred.

In 1956, President Dwight D. Eisenhower won the most votes ever received by a Presidential candidate, 35,585,316. A total of 58,000,000 newspapers are bought and read daily.

CUSTODY CASE FIGURES—Mrs. Ava Gardner, left, 31-year-old Englishwoman, talked with reporters in New York yesterday about the custody of her two daughters, Brenda, 10, seated at right, and Denise, 12. The girls are with her estranged husband, former GI Hubert R. Gardner, 37, of Flint, Mich. Through his attorney, Gardner said he thought the matter of the girls' custody had been settled, by placing them in boarding school where both parents were to have full access to them. Mrs. Gardner said they were married in England during World War II, and Gardner brought the girls to the U.S. last November 21 without telling her.

Transporting Law Helping Poultrymen

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The Agriculture Department reports that the holly controversial exemption clause for carting farm goods is saving poultry producers one-third of their transportation costs.

The exemption clause, now facing some stiff opposition in Congress, excuses truckers hauling unmanufactured farm products from government rules that fix transport prices.

By action of the Supreme Court in 1956, dressed poultry and frozen fruits and vegetables are considered "unmanufactured" farm goods. They can be hauled by any truck at any rate the owner can get.

Spokesmen for the railroads, which have no such exemption, have bitterly opposed putting poultry and frozen goods on the list. They told the Senate Commerce Committee in marathon hearings that ended last week that they can't compete with trucks for hauling these items.

Women Have 'Invaded' Largest YMCA Agency

CHICAGO (AP)—The largest YMCA in the world, in Chicago, notes on its 100th birthday that it is thoroughly infiltrated by women.

Founded to improve the "spiritual, intellectual and social conditions of young men," the Young Men's Christian Assn. of Metropolitan Chicago has 22,000 women members among its total of 119,000.

During the Civil War, with so many members in the Army, the association sought to strengthen itself by admitting women as auxiliary members.

Auto Industry Cuts Steel Use

NEW YORK—(INS)—Iron Age magazine said today the auto industry has told steelmakers it will be buying only limited tonnages for the balance of the 1958 model year.

The national metalworking weekly said this means steel companies can expect little help from Detroit toward pulling out of the current slump before August or September when orders will be given for steel to be used in 1959 cars.

B&O Deadline Set For New York Trips

No reservations are being accepted by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad here for service between Baltimore and New York after April 26.

The rail firm last November announced it wanted to drop all passenger service between those points.

When contacted for a reservation for early in May, a ticket agent here said no reservations were being taken after April 26 because the railroad could not be sure passenger trains would be running between Baltimore and New York after that date.

A railroad spokesman advised being contacted at a later date for reservations. It was indicated the B&O would transport passengers to Washington, from where they would transfer to the Pennsylvania Railroad for New York and points between.

B&O headquarters in Baltimore had no comment.

The Maryland Public Service Commission has granted permission to halt passenger service within the state. Similar requests went to regulatory bodies in Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey.

When the B&O made the original announcement last fall, it said "an enormous deficit in passenger operations" made it necessary to take off the passenger trains.

It plans to continue regular passenger runs west of Baltimore.

Light Snow Seen In Area

As predicted yesterday by the Baltimore office of the Weather Bureau, this end of the state got some more snow today.

Only it was intermittent in Garrett County, this morning and was not causing any trouble.

A few flakes were reported in Frostburg. A drizzle occurred in Cumberland around noon.

William A. Johnson, district forester, said Clarkville in Frederick County, which is at a high altitude, received some snow this morning, but the tower operator there said it melted as soon as it landed.

While the temperature was not actually too cold, from a degree standpoint, the air was biting. Garrett County reported a brisk wind and falling temperatures at noon.

The forecast for Garrett County and western Allegany County is for rain tonight with a low between 35 and 40 degrees. Tomorrow is to be cloudy and cool with showers.

Writ Denied To Prisoner

A petition for a writ of habeas corpus was denied a House of Correction prisoner today by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court.

William A. Hardy was tried before Judge Benjamin Michaelson in Anne Arundel Circuit Court on May 31, 1957, and was found guilty of a charge of rape. He was sentenced to five years in the House of Correction.

Hardy contended in his petition for a writ of habeas corpus that his counsel was incompetent and that he appealed Judge Michaelson's verdict but none was entered.

Judge Harris in his opinion declared there was no indication that the prisoner's counsel was not competent, and that he did render skilled services in his behalf.

He also noted there is no indication in docket entries of Anne Arundel Circuit Court that an appeal was entered, and the judge observed Hardy would not, as requested, state under oath that he took an appeal. Hardy refused to reply to the judge's request.

Judge Harris added that the question of being denied an appeal cannot be raised on habeas corpus.

EASTER SEAL LUCKYBUCKS NEEDED NOW

The total number of lucky bucks received in the current Easter Seal campaign was swelled by 195 today.

Drive headquarters at the Allegany County League for Crippled Children reported there is already $8,233 on hand for treatment of handicapped youngsters.

The league hopes to have 12,000 lucky bucks on hand when the campaign is ended this month. So, if you haven't done so, mail in your dollar for the crippled youngsters.

Contest Final Events Begin Here Today

Trio Will Compete For 1958 Selection As Mrs. Maryland

The final events in the contest for the selection of "Mrs. Maryland" will begin today at 4 p. m. in the auditorium of the Cumberland and Allegany Gas Company on Baltimore Street.

A panel of three judges will interview the contestants, Mrs. Joanne Humbert, LaVale; Mrs. Mary Rohrer, Hagerstown, and Mrs. Colleen Lapp, this city. A written quiz on dishwashing will also be conducted, and films of the 1957 "Mrs. America" contest will be shown.

The contest is being sponsored by the C & A firm and the Hagerstown Gas Company.

The judges are Mrs. Elizabeth Hanlin, of the Home Economics Department of Potomac State College, Keyser; Mrs. Virginia Carney, home economics director of the Hagan Chemical Company of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Hubert A. Tyler of Pittsburgh, a former home economist.

The cook-off portion of the contest will begin at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow in the C&A auditorium, and the three contestants will be required to prepare a meal within a two-hour period.

A table-setting contest will be held in conjunction with the cook-off, with the arrangement of a centerpiece being part of the stipulations.

Mrs. Humbert, Mrs. Rohrer and Mrs. Lapp will be guests at a luncheon tomorrow at Anton's Restaurant during which a microphone quiz will be conducted. The trio will afterward undergo a sewing test.

The winner of the contest will be announced at a dinner tomorrow at 6:30 p. m. at the Cumberland County Club during which prizes for various portions of the contest will be awarded.

The selection of the new "Mrs. Maryland" will be announced by George Couler, business promotion manager of the Pittsburgh Group of the Columbia Gas System. She will be crowned by Mrs. Robert Elisminger Jr., Hagerstown, last year's titlist. James A. Avirett, local attorney, will be master of ceremonies for the dinner program.

Youth Held For Robbery

Pennsylvania State Police at the Bedford sub-station yesterday apprehended a 17-year-old youth wanted for armed robbery.

Police said today the youth has been released in the custody of his parents who reside in nearly Fulton County, Pa.

Authorities said the teenager pulled a revolver on a waitress at the Beachwood Inn on U.S. Route 220, south of Bedford, on December 12, 1957.

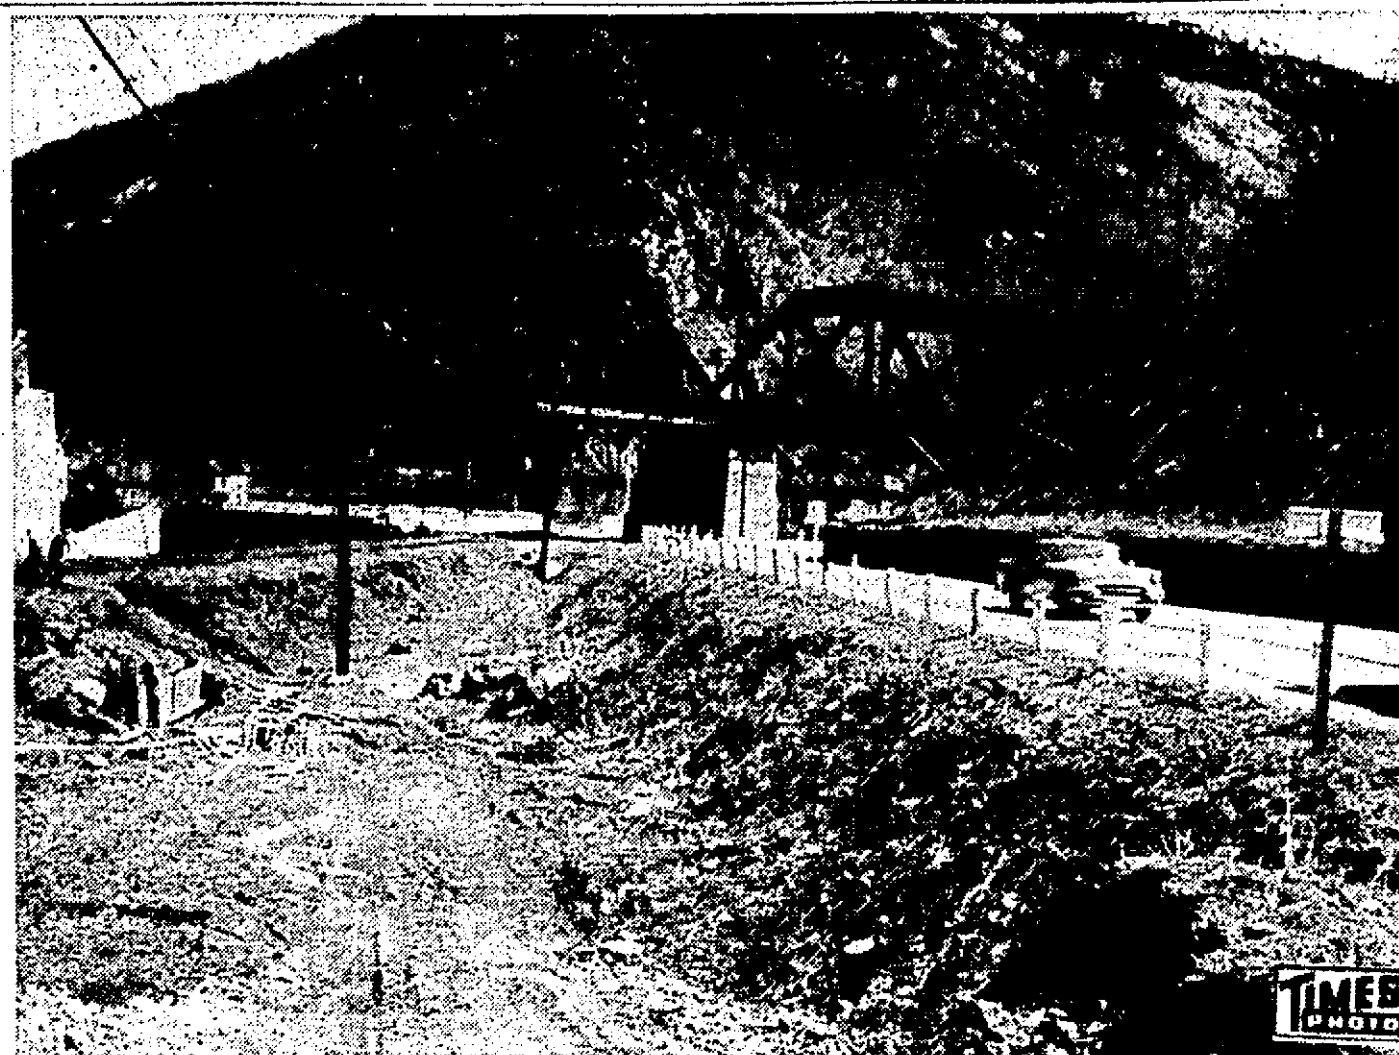

The youth fled after the waitress refused to heed his demand to "hand over the money or I'll shoot." The waitress yelled for the proprietor of the inn and the teenager fled in his automobile.

Police at Bedford said the juvenile is also involved in similar cases in Huntingdon and Adams counties. He made off with a few dollars in the Huntingdon robbery.

Authorities have been on the lookout for the youth's auto since the December 12 attempted robbery, and on Monday of this week it was spotted.

CHECK PRESENTATION—Contributions totaling $343.50, the results from an Easter Lily Parade conducted Saturday by Cumberland Lodge 271, L.O.O. Moose, were presented in the form of a check yesterday to the Allegany County League for Crippled Children. Arthur

CURVE IMPROVEMENT—This is the curve in the west end of the Narrows that will be widened as a part of the project that is providing a new intersection of Routes 40 and 36. The stone wall shown is located at approximately the centerline of what will be the new and widened National Highway. A sloping bank will be cut up the hill to the old Georges Creek Railroad right-of-way. Just beyond the Western Maryland Railway bridge pier is the new entrance of Route 36, the Mt. Savage Road, off Route 40.

Police Grab Two Men In Looting Act

City Police last night nabbed two local men in the act of looting the Christopher Photo Lab at 732 East Oldtown Road.

Being held for investigation are John Fadley, 1414 River Avenue, and William Radcliff, 208 West Oldtown Road.

The tip in the case was received at midnight when John Hyson, 321 Fort Avenue, telephoned police that he noticed someone inside the photo lab. Hyson was returning home from work at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass plant.

Officer Clarence Valentine reported to the scene and caught Fadley behind a counter in the front of the building. While in the process of handcuffing Fadley, Officer Valentine heard another person walking around in a rear room.

The officer went to his car and radioed for help and within minutes Officers Kenneth Morrissey and Royce Clayton reported and assisted in apprehending Radcliff.

Police said the men entered the building by knocking out a window along the side of the building.

Police also noted that yesterday Radcliff had admitted to taking six automobile tires from Hare's Used Car Lot on South Mechanic Street. The tires were returned to the owner and no charges were preferred.

Wiley Ford Baby Sped To Hospital

State Police ambulance carried a one-month old baby to Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, from his Wiley Ford home for examination.

The hospital identified the child as Keith Lee Ashenfelter, born March 6, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ashenfelter.

The hospital said the infant had a "congenital heart defect," was placed in an incubator, and was in serious condition.

One-Way Traffic Planned For Route 40 In Narrows

There will be one-way traffic on Route 40 at the west end of the Narrows for about three months beginning Monday, State Roads Commission District 6 personnel reported today.

This will allow the S. T. Brotemarkle and Sons Construction Company to cut away the bank and stone wall on the eastbound lane of Route 40.

Centerline At Wall

George Geary, assistant district engineer in charge of construction, reported the wall will be removed and the bank cut back up the hill to the old Georges Creek Railroad property.

The centerline of the widened Route 40 at just west of the new Route 36 intersection will be where the wall is now, he added.

The contractor will take about three months to get this work completed. There will be one-way traffic only during working hours. This is usually from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday, Geary added.

To Build Wall

In addition to cutting the wall back, the contractor will build a retention wall in Wills Creek so that Route 40 and 36 at its intersection can be widened.

The Cumberland Contracting Company has been working for the past three weeks on the link of Route 36 that will connect the bridge with the completed new roadway in the Corriganville vicinity.

Survey crews were busy this past winter on the Mt. Savage Road between completed section at Corriganville and Barrelville. This work is scheduled in the future to give a practically new highway between the Narrows and Mt. Savage.

Route 36 relocation is also scheduled in the 12-year road program between Frostburg and Mt. Savage.

To Attend Confab

Members of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will attend the Pennsylvania Circuit Assembly at Monessen, Pa., tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday.

Mine Waters Meet Topic Of River Group

Two-Day Session Scheduled In May At Bedford Springs

"We Can Control Acid Mine Waters" will be the theme of the spring meeting of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin May 8 and 9 at Bedford Springs Hotel, Bedford.

The keynote address following opening remarks by Commission Chairman John A. K. Donovan will be made by Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde (R-Md., 6th). Hyde will talk on regional regulation of the Potomac River Basin.

At 9:15 a. m. on the opening day a panel discussion will be held on Pennsylvania's program for the control of acid mine drainage.

Reclamation Topic

Moderator will be Charles L. Wilbar Jr., Pennsylvania secretary of health. L. S. Morgan, director of Mine Drainage Control for Pennsylvania, will speak on the work of his office.

Reclamation of stripped areas will be discussed by Lewis Evans, deputy secretary, Pennsylvania Department of Mines. The legal aspects of the acid mine drainage control will be aired by Robert J. Trace, assistant attorney general of Pennsylvania.

The luncheon speaker will be T. C. Fearnow of the U. S. Forest Service. Chairman of the luncheon will be Harold B. Rudisill, Pennsylvania member of the river commission.

At 1:30 p. m. May 8 a moving picture, "Waters of the Commonwealth," will be shown.

The industrial program will begin at 2 p. m. with Julian G. Patrick, Luke, chairman of the industrial committee of the commission in charge.

Bean To Speak

Maryland's program will be announced later. West Virginia's program for industry and rivers will be presented by State Sen. Ralph Bean of Moorefield, co-chairman of the commission's government and finance committee.

Industry's program will be given by Henry F. Hebley and Ernest Hall, research consultants, Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company.

Committee meetings will follow. Joseph F. Kayler, director of the Maryland Department of Forests and Parks, is chairman of the commission's land committee, and Patrick, the industrial committee.

The dinner speaker in the evening will be Maurice K. Goddard, secretary, Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters, and lastmaster will be William Voight, director of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission.

Meet Again Friday

Friday morning's session will open with a talk on river sampling and testing. N. H. Beamer, U. S. Geological Survey.

A panel will follow on "Research Needs," with Louis F. Warrick, U. S. Public Health Service, as moderator. S. A. Braeley, Mellon Institute, will have as his topic industrial research. The biological research speaker will be announced later.

At 11 a. m. committee reports will be made and at noon the spring meeting will be adjourned.

Three To Attend Nursing Seminar

Three nurses from Cumberland will attend the cardiac nursing seminar in Merckenthaler Vocational High School, Baltimore, tomorrow.

The program is sponsored by the Heart Association of Maryland, the Maryland State Nurses Association, and the Maryland League for Nursing.

Attending from here will be Miss Christine Williams, R.N.; Mrs. Ora Mae Lewis, R.N., and Miss Burke, P. N.

John Williams is an official of District 1, Maryland Nurses Association, and Mrs. Lewis is executive secretary of the Allegany-Garrett Heart Association.

Passover Rites Planned Tonight

Concluding services for the Passover will be held today at 8 p. m. in B'er Chayim Synagogue with Rabbi Arthur Oles officiating and speaking on the festival.

Sabbath services will be conducted tomorrow at 8 p. m. by Rabbi Oles and Saturday at 10 a. m. by the junior congregation. The rabbi will also speak Saturday.

At the conclusion of services tomorrow night, a seminar will be held for the teachers of the religious school.

Election Set Today By Wiley Ford PTA

The Parent-Teacher Association of Wiley Ford School will elect officers for the 1958-59 school year at a meeting today at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

A classroom visitation period and meeting of the unit's executive board are scheduled to be held at 7 p. m. The program at the meeting will be conducted by the Brownie Troop which the PTA sponsors.

Chili Lightens Cleaning Day Tasks

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

WHEN SPRING CLEANING DAY rolls around, serve chili con carne in paper bowls to save time and energy. Prepare it ahead of time and simply re-heat it.

Spring housecleaning isn't the gigantic job it used to be—thanks to modern electrical appliances that clean up well all the year around. But there are still closets that have to be gone through, refrigerator coils that need vacuuming and other big chores to be done.

Serving supper can be easy on the day you devote to such tasks if you prepare a dish that can be made ahead and re-heated. Here's a recipe for chili con carne, for instance, that improves by being kept overnight in the refrigerator; you have only to reheat it slowly when you want to serve it. This, by the way, is the "soupy" sort of chili that should be served in soup bowls with a tablespoon and a fork; ladle it over steamed rice if you like, or accompany it with crisp crackers.

You can also make your life easy by serving supper on paper plates, in paper bowls and cups. With the chili offer a salad of greens and carrot and French dressing.

Soup-Dish Chili Con Carne
Ingredients: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 cup finely chopped onion, 2 large garlic cloves (crushed), 1 pound ground chuck beef, 1 can (1 pound and 12 ounces) tomatoes, 1 can (1 pound) red kidney beans, ¼ teaspoon ground cumin, chili powder, salt, pepper.

Method: Melt butter in 12-inch deep skillet over low heat. Add onion and garlic and cook slowly, stirring often, for about 10 minutes. Add beef and cook over high heat, mashing with a fork to separate into particles, until meat loses its red color. Add tomatoes and kidney beans (including liquid in both cans), sugar, ground cumin and chili powder, salt and pepper to taste. If you like chili mild, add the chili powder by teaspoons; if you like a hot dish, add it by tablespoons. Cover and simmer about 1 hour, stirring occasionally. Refrigerate in covered container. Reheat very slowly about 1 hour before serving, stirring occasionally. Serve in soup plates over steamed rice or with crisp crackers. Makes 6 servings.

Use standard proportions for a "thin" white sauce when you are preparing a cream soup or when you are using the sauce with spaghetti or noodles.

Turkeys, Chickens Best Buys In Food Markets

By The Associated Press

What's new on the food front this week?

Beef, pork and lamb are among the specials offered by many markets but prices are not cheap. Poultry is still the standout buy. Turkeys for roasting and chickens for frying are available at attractive prices almost everywhere. Some Southern stores are advertising specials on Rock Cornish hens. Prices are, of course, substantially higher than those of the more popular poultry types.

Beef cuts offered at slightly reduced prices include boneless chuck pot roast, sirloin, hamburger, round steak and beef blade.

Eggs Generally Lower
Egg prices are charting an erratic course—up in some cities and down in others. The general trend is lower.

The overall trend of food prices is still upward. Market analysts say there's some hope of lower prices by late spring. In May, new supplies of fresh vegetables should reach the market and by summer additional supplies of vegetables and local harvests of fresh fruits should reduce food bills by a considerable margin. The one big "if" in the picture is the weather.

You can look for lower meat prices in early fall when new supplies of hogs, cattle, chickens, turkeys and other meat animals reach market.

A few spring vegetables are arriving at big city markets now. Good buys include green onions from New Jersey, spinach from Virginia and topped carrots from the Western states.

Beets, collards, snap beans, cabbage, asparagus, endive, escarole, mushrooms, Maine and Idaho potatoes and iceberg lettuce are attractively priced.

Tomatoes are on the high side, as are Cuban cucumbers, Florida peppers and pascal celery from Florida and California.

Cuban pineapples are an excellent buy. Other fruits available at moderate prices include Michigan rhubarb and Washington apples.

Florida citrus fruits have come down a little but prices still reflect crop damage from winter storms.

Moved Higher Sooner

The Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland reports that food prices, which generally rise in the spring, moved higher and sooner than usual this year.

Meat producers concentrated on building drought-depleted herds. This meant less livestock sent to market and higher prices at the butcher shop.

What's more, some of the harshest weather in years damaged win-

Asparagus with Brown Crumbs and Bacon

Ingredients: 1 can (about 1 pound) of asparagus stalks, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs, 4 strips bacon.

Method: Empty asparagus into a saucepan and heat. Meanwhile melt butter in 6-inch skillet; add bread crumbs and stir until lightly browned. Also cook bacon, drain on paper towel and crumble. Drain asparagus. (Reserve asparagus liquid for use in soup.)

Sprinkle asparagus with buttered bread crumbs and top with crumbled bacon. Makes 4 servings.

ter crops of tomatoes, snap beans, carrots, cucumbers, green peppers and citrus fruits.

However, concludes the bank, a period of relative shortage may be followed by one of relative abundance with lower prices indicated by midyear.

Boil Brazil Nuts

Boil Brazil nuts in their shells in salted water for about three minutes, then run under cold water for one minute; drain and crack with the greatest of ease.

Wrap Sandwiches

Wrap sandwiches tightly in waxed paper, then in a damp tea towel and store in the refrigerator. This treatment will keep them fresh-tasting.

Careless Drivers Foul Up Traffic In Food Markets

By VIRGINIA KACHAN
CHICAGO — (INS) — If you want to save time in the supermarket, use the courtesy of the road.

Watch the signs, let the other shopper go first and watch intersections, urges a New York food brokerage firm after a survey of 1,000 supermarket clerks.

The clerks said women barrel up to intersections in supermarket aisles without watching "other drivers." The result: Traffic jams with locked carts and wills that take minutes before some one gives in. One supermarket manager clocked one "collision" at seven minutes.

Checking out the groceries could be a lot faster, the supermarket employees agreed, if women with small loads would not race the signs indicating lines for only two or three items — or stop changing their minds. But they don't. Instead, women with a few groceries ask others with full baskets to step aside and, the clerks said, the inevitable result is a lot of talk and time wasted.

Or one woman will hold up a whole line while she dashes back into the aisles for items she has either forgotten or decided to exchange.

All the clerks sighed for the day when all grocery shopping will be done by men. As one put it, "men have much better shopping manners."

Mix cocoa with sugar before adding hot water when you are preparing this beverage. The men with small loads would not search granules in the cocoa won't lump this way.

Stock Larder With Pineapple Cake

SUPERR PINEAPPLE UPSIDEDOWN cake can be served at once or stored in its baking pan in the refrigerator or freezer for later use.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

It's fun to achieve a goal with a recipe. We like the pineapple upsidedown cake put up by a well-known food organization that has a chain of restaurants featuring American-type food. Their dessert has excellent texture and flavor, comes in baked frozen form so that it needs only reheating, is packed in small foil pans and makes two generous portions.

With this dessert as a model, we worked out our own recipe so that the cake could be made at home and put in the freezer, ready for unexpected company. Naturally this dessert is less expensive when it is made at home than when it is bought and this recipe produces a reasonable facsimile of the original ready-baked frozen dessert. So if you have more time than money, you might like to try this recipe.

We saved the small foil pans that many ready-cooked frozen foods come in to use for this home baking. The pans stand up remarkably well — we have used ours many times.

One of the features of these small pans is that they hold exactly two slices of pineapple (from a one-pound and four-ounce can) so that the cake may be cut into two attractive portions with a pineapple ring atop each. These servings are large, however, so the cake may be cut to serve three or four. The cake batter we are giving you makes enough topping for four of the pans; you'll have the pineapple syrup and two slices left over.

Small Pineapple Upsidedown Cakes
Ingredients: 1 can (1 pound and 4 ounces) sliced pineapple, 4 tablespoons butter, ½ cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar, 1 teaspoon Angostura bitters, 1½ cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup butter or margarine, ¼ cup granulated sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 large egg, ½ cup milk, 4 or 8 maraschino cherries (drained).

Method: Turn pineapple into a strainer to drain well. Put 1 tablespoon butter into each of 4 small foil baking pans (6 by 4½ inches across the top and 1½ inches deep); place over very low heat until the butter melts; remove from heat with tongs or pot holder. Put 2 tablespoons dark brown sugar and ¼ teaspoon bitters in each pan; mix well and spread evenly. Sift together the cake flour, baking powder and salt. Cream ¼ cup butter, the granulated sugar and vanilla together with electric mixer; beat in egg thoroughly. Stir in sifted dry ingredients in four additions alternately with milk; begin and end with flour. Turn the batter over the four prepared pans; there will be about ½ cup batter for each pan. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean and tops are lightly browned. If desserts are to be served at once, run a spatula around the sides of cake to loosen and turn out on flat surface. Insert a half or a whole maraschino cherry in center of each pineapple ring. If desserts are not to be served at once, place pans on a cake rack to cool. Cover tops with foil and store in refrigerator or freezer. To reheat place desserts in pans, uncovered, in hot (425 degrees) oven for 10 minutes or until hot through, then remove as previously directed. If a little of the brown sugar mixture sticks to the pan on removal, scrape up with a small spatula and spread on pineapple. Makes 8 large servings. If desired, the desserts may be topped with whipped cream.

GINGERBREAD MEN
Ingredients: 3¼ cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, ½ teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 2 teaspoons ginger, ¾ cup dark brown sugar (sifted and firmly packed before measuring), ¾ cup light molasses, ¾ cup butter or margarine, 1 egg.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, cinnamon and ginger; mix in the brown sugar. Heat molasses slowly in a saucepan large enough for mixing cookies; remove from heat. Add butter; stir until melted; cool. Beat egg into molasses mixture. Gradually stir in the dry ingredients. Chill until firm enough to handle, about 1 hour. Roll out on a prepared pastry cloth, with stocknet-covered rolling pin, to ¼ or ½ inch thickness. Cut out with gingerbread man cutter. Place on lightly greased cookie sheets. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 12 to 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool on wire racks. Store in tightly closed container.

Cheese, Bacon Are Filler For Custard Pie

For a sophisticated and different luncheon dish, when you're tired of the same old souffles, why not try quiche Lorraine?

Quiche Lorraine, which is essentially a cheese and bacon custard pie, is easy to make.

First, line a 9-inch pie plate with your favorite pie crust. Broil 8 strips of bacon and drain. Break about 8 thin slices of Swiss cheese into pieces. Cut bacon slices in pieces and cover crust with pieces of bacon and cheese.

Beat 5 eggs with 2 cups of light cream. Add ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon white pepper, a tablespoon of flour, and ½ teaspoon nutmeg. Mix thoroughly. Pour over cheese and bacon. Bake in a 375 F. oven for 45 minutes. Custard should be set and top lightly browned.

Garlic, Anchovies Added To Broccoli

Saute a minced clove of garlic in 2 tablespoons olive oil. Blend in rolled anchovies from a 2-ounce can and a few drops fresh lemon juice.

Delicious over cooked fresh broccoli (4 to 5 servings).

You can add unflavored gelatin to a seasoned clear stock and have a good cold soup. Chill the mixture, then break it up before serving.

Family-Size Cans Serve Main Dishes

Many food items are appearing on the market in large "family-size" cans.

Main dish items such as Chinese chop suey dinners, chow mein noodles, corned beef hash, spaghetti and meat balls, chili con carne all are available in cans large enough to serve four to six persons.

Cook Meatballs In Beef Gravy

Meatballs are extra special and 1 can (10½ ounces) beef when cooked in canned beef gravy.

For a quickie, try this: Lightly mix 1 pound ground beef, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, ½ teaspoon salt and dash black pepper. Shape into sixteen small meatballs; brown in 1 tablespoon butter or margarine. Stir in ½ cup sliced mushrooms, simmer until meat is done—about ten minutes. Serve to four hungry people with fluffy mashed potatoes.

You can bread chicken pieces several hours ahead and refrigerate until you are ready to deep-fat fry them for your meal.

Eat Custard Dessert And Diet, Too

CUSTARD FOR CALORIE-COUNTERS is made with egg whites and skim milk and adds a refreshing dessert to diet menus.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

This recipe should appeal to cooks who want to eat dessert and diet, too. It produces a sweet smooth baked custard that makes a pleasant ending for a meal.

used and helps to cut the custard's calorie count.

We enjoyed these custards most when we served them with fresh orange sections because they benefit from the refreshing flavor accompaniment. If you use the sections of half a large orange for each portion, as we did, you'll add about 25 calories to each serving—but it's worth it!

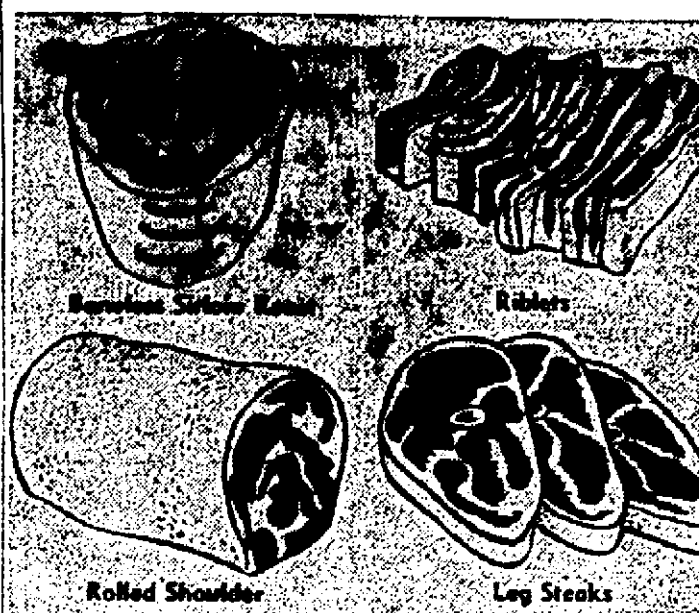

SNOW WHITE CUSTARD
Ingredients: 5 egg whites, ½ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 2½ cups skim milk (warm but not scalded), 2 to 3 large seedless oranges (cut in membrane free sections).

Method: Beat egg whites slightly; add sugar, salt, vanilla and nutmeg; beat gently just enough to blend. Gradually stir in the warm milk until blended. Pour into five 6-ounce custard cups. Place cups in a deep pan of warm water; have water reach as high as the custard mixture. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until a knife inserted halfway between the outer rim and center of custard comes out clean—45 to 60 minutes. At once place custards on a wire rack. Allow to stand until cool, then cover and refrigerate. Do not cut into or unmold until served; then loosen edges with a spatula and turn out. Garnish with fresh orange sections. Makes 5 servings.

Note: When you have an extra egg white, put it in a small jar with a screw-top lid and refrigerate; then add to the jar as you have other extra whites. You can save whites this way for a week or so for this recipe.

COOK BOOK NEWS
One of the best of the new books featuring calorie-reduced dishes is "The Slenderella Cook Book" by Myra Waldo (Putnam). Miss Waldo knows good food and her astuteness is reflected in her cooking and recipe-writing. She has had the wit to include dishes not usually found in diet cook books, that will add zest to meals. Pickled peppers, clam sauces, Greek salad, bouef Bourguignon and interesting ways to serve eggs are some of them. The cook book's lists of the calories in average serving of food are helpful and include commercially canned and frozen foods, packaged crackers and sweet biscuits, bakery cakes and pies.

Lamb Cuts Up Into Variety Of Economical Menu Treats

FOUR WAYS to buy lamb are shown above. It's a meat offering a variety of cuts that are both economical and delicious.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
In the springtime or any other eating time, lamb can gambol across your menus in many different and economical forms.

Leg of lamb and loin chops are undoubtedly favorites. But you can add variety with rolled, like boneless sirloin roast, rolled shoulder, riblets and leg steaks. A sirloin roast is the broad upper end of a full leg of lamb and usually weighs 2 to 2½ pounds. Rolled shoulder is an excellent choice for roasting. The meat is boned, rolled and tied and is easy to carve. Economical riblets are strips cut from the breast attached to the rib bones. Lamb steaks are a good idea when you're planning to serve a leg of lamb roast. Ask the meat man to cut steaks from the sirloin end of the leg and you're all set with lamb for another meal.

Lamb Shoulder Roast with Pineapple (8 servings)
One 4-pound boned shoulder of lamb, rolled and tied, 2 tablespoons salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 1 cup water, 1 tablespoon curry powder, 1-pound-4-ounce can crushed pineapple.

Cook lamb until browned on all sides. Add seasonings and water. Cover and cook 1 hour or until lamb is tender. Add remaining ingredients and cook, covered, 10 minutes.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Chilled vegetable juice cocktail, lamb shoulder roast with pineapple, scalloped potatoes, buttered green beans, lettuce and celery knob salad, oil and lemon juice dressing, rhubarb pie, cheese, coffee, tea, milk.

Sauce Brings Out Flavor Of Fish

Tuna or swordfish in this tasty wine sauce makes anyone a fish enthusiast.

For four to six servings of Fish Alsaac heat 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in a Dutch oven, or a large, heavy saucepan. Add 1½ to 2 pounds swordfish or tuna (fresh or frozen) and ½ pound small whole white onions, and cook until fish is well browned on all sides.

Add 1 cup Alsatian Reissling wine, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 bay leaf and ½ teaspoon thyme. Bring to boil, seconds until sauce thickens. Cover and simmer for 40 minutes. Pour over fish.

Avocado 3-Fruit Cocktail Treat

"Avocado three fruit cocktail" is a treat that bears frequent repetition. It is refreshing, it is nourishing and it is crowned with a wonderful dressing.

Avocado Three Fruit Cocktail
2 cups cubed avocado
Lemon juice
Salt
2 medium-sized oranges
½ cups sliced sweetened strawberries
Dressing:
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon mild prepared mustard
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup cream

To prepare avocado, cut into halves, remove seed and skin, and cut fruit into cubes. Sprinkle with lemon juice and salt. Peel oranges and cut into cubes. Arrange the three fruits in chilled glasses and top with dressing just before serving.

Dressing: Combine lemon juice, mustard, sugar and salt, and stir to blend. Whip into cream a small portion at a time.

Serves six or more.

Romaine and Beet Salad
Ingredients: 4 cups (lightly packed) fork-size pieces of romaine, 1 can (about 8 ounces) small whole beets, ½ of a green pepper, 2 stalks celery, French dressing, salt, freshly-ground pepper to taste. Makes 4 servings.

Method: Turn romaine into salad bowl. Drain beets; slice into thin rounds. (Beet liquid may be used in a soup.) Arrange over romaine. Cut green pepper and celery into thin strips; sprinkle over beets. Cover tightly and refrigerate until serving time; then toss with a well-seasoned French dressing, salt and freshly-ground pepper to taste. Makes 4 servings.

BACON-TOPPED MACARONI AND CHEESE
Ingredients: 1½ tablespoons butter or margarine, 1½ tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon white pepper, 1½ cups milk, 1½ cups grated cheddar cheese (packed down), 1 cup (4 ounces) elbow macaroni, 8 slices bacon (cooked until about three-quarters done but not crisp).

Method: Melt butter in medium-sized saucepan over low heat; stir in flour, salt and pepper until smooth. Add milk; cook and stir over moderate low heat until thickened and bubbly. Remove from heat; stir in cheese until melted; cover; reserve. Cook macaroni according to package directions; drain in colander. Reheat sauce if necessary; over very low heat. Mix with cooked drained hot macaroni. Turn into buttered shallow 1- to 1½-quart baking dish (a round heat-resistant glass cake dish that is 8½ by 12½ inches is fine). Arrange partly cooked bacon slices over macaroni. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven until bacon is crisp and browned—20 to 30 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Olive and Cheese Burgers
Ingredients: 1 pound ground chuck beef, 1 sandwich-size slice cheddar cheese, 4 very large or 8 small pimiento-stuffed green olives, butter or margarine.

Method: Make 8 thin patties of the beef. Cut cheese into 4 squares; slice olives. Put a piece of cheese over the center of each of 4 patties; add olive slices. Top with remaining patties and press edges together to make tight seal. Brown both sides of patties rapidly in hot butter in skillet; decrease heat and cook to desired doneness. Makes 4 servings.

DAY IN SPORTS

The Pony Baseball League, which has provided some of the best baseball seen in the city in the past few seasons of its operation, hopes to expand this summer.

Gene Mason, City Recreation director, wants to secure sponsors, either from fraternal, social or veterans organizations, with the possibility of enlarging the circuit from its present four teams to, perhaps, a half-dozen.

The league affords boys of high school age or those who have just finished their schoolboy careers an opportunity of playing baseball. The brand of play is exceptionally good with most players of that age now having moved through the ranks of the Dapper Dan Little League and Hot Stove League.

The Rec Department sponsored the setup last year and all the teams are completely equipped with the exception of new uniforms. Mason feels that if local organizations will lend a hand, it will also add more competition to the league, possibly help enlarge it and enable the teams to round out their circuit as a well-organized and balanced loop.

Officials of local organizations who wish to get more details should contact Mason at the Rec Department. The four teams in the circuit last year and their managers were the Colts, Earl Drenning, Thorbrooks, Harry Miles, Mustangs, Charles Detrick, and Stallions, Don Shroat.

Stallions won the playoff title by defeating Colts in two of three games after Colts had taken the season championship.

Fort Hill Opens With Alumni Nine Tomorrow

Five Contests Also On Tap In PVC For Heavy Slate

The first big day of high school baseball activity is on tap tomorrow afternoon with five Potomac Valley Conference clashes and the initial appearance of Fort Hill High's nine on the card.

The Sentinels will take on their Alumni in the only non-league clash listed for the South Enders this spring. Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's swatters will be out to help make a near-clean sweep of the athletic honors available to city teams during this current school year.

Clubs In Near Sweep The football team of coach Bill Hahn swept the city and Cumberland Valley Athletic League races and compiled a 10-0 record. Coach Cavanaugh's basketball club made a haul of five crowns in bagging the WM, CVAL, County Class A, District and state "A" honors while tying with LaSalle for the city honors.

The bowling team won the Bi-State Interscholastic League playoffs and the girl's basketball club again swept through the season undefeated.

This season the Sentinels' diamondmen are out to make a successful defense of the city and Allegany County Baseball League honors they took last spring.

Russ Jones, who had a 4-0 mark last year, is expected to get the call against the Grads tomorrow with Jim "Ducky" Paige also listed for mound duty.

The veteran Hilltopper lineup is also to include Gary Wolford, catcher and leading hitter in the league last year, along with Donnie Lewis, Tom Shaw, Thurl Roy and "Whitey" Slonaker at the infield slots. Jim Hammond, Ed Weaver and Jim Stinson are listed for outfield duty.

Grads Listed The Alumni will be made up of Jesse Markley, Ivan Abe, Denny Yager, Ed McKenney, Galen McGaidor, "Pooch" and Ronnie Lewis, Donnie Irons, Ed Puffenberger, Paul Stickle, Jim Leamon, Ron Whisner, Rich Breighner, Ronnie Cagle, Jack Hann, Bill Eckard, Jim Ketterman, Kenny Perdue, Jim Miller, Pat Souder, Bob Cagle, Vince Green, Vern Wharton, Gerald Null, Jack Emerick and Dave Ritter.

The game will start at 4 o'clock. With a continued break from the weatherman, most of the PVC teams hope to finally get their seasons underway tomorrow.

Keyser made a strong bid for league honors in its opener yesterday by routing Southern of Oakland, 14-0. The Golden Toronado will be going for its second victory tomorrow when facing Romney High on the Keyser diamond. The Pioneers will be taking the field for the first time.

In other clashes, Wardensville batters these days. The University of Southern California baseball team gave the Los Angeles Coliseum's short left field its first test yesterday and the Trojan batters knocked 11 homers over the 42-foot screen in a half hour of hitting practice.

Johnny Werhas slammed 10 hits, six of them home runs, with the LONGEST clearing the screen at about the 300-foot mark. The short left field is only 230 feet from the plate with the addition of the screen adding 42 feet, making it the most inviting target in major-league history.

Polynomial quote from off-battered former lightweight champion Bud Smith: "When you get money, you just quit. I think I'll just quit."

When Bronko Nagurski shows up at the Minnesota football old-timers game this spring, it's going to be more than a token appearance. The rugged, forthright Bronk intends to mix it against the current Gophers.

Anyone for the band-aids department? Best quote of week comes from Solly Hemus of the Phillies who told Sandy Grady, Philadelphia sports columnist, about his soaring spring hitting: "I owe it all to cleanliness, confidence and spring pitchers."

When things go wrong, they usually go all the way. Robin Roberts' dubious right arm isn't the only meat ticket going sour for the Phils' hurler.

Seems he invested heavily in a shrimp-processing outfit in Georgia that's bringing only midsize returns. And a restaurant in Savannah (seafood, too) that isn't hauling them in.

And final sign that he's tucking in his belt is that this spring for the first time the Roberts' clan didn't occupy swank private quarters in spring training on the beach at Clearwater.

Larry McPhail's son, Bill, who heads up CRT-TV sports, was affected by the technician's strike in New York, too. He wound up as a boom man in dungeons for Edge of Night, the soppiest of the soaps.

Track Names Race LOUISVILLE, Ky. — A seven-furlong race on the opening day of Spring racing at Churchill Downs has been named "The Sleeping Stone." It is for three-year-olds only, and a number of Kentucky Derby eligibles are expected to use this race as their final prep for the big event one week later.

Machen To Rest After Draw With Folley

By JOHN DANIEL SAN FRANCISCO — (INS) — Cus D'Amato won't be receiving any visits today from Sid Flaherty, manager of Eddie Machen, who was lucky to come out of his fight with Zora Folley last night with a 12-round draw.

Undoubtedly D'Amato will issue a communique saying that even if the outcome of the fight at San Francisco's Cow Palace had been otherwise, Machen still would not get a heavyweight title shot with Floyd Patterson.

In the first eight rounds, Machen looked like anything but championship caliber. Previously he had been rated No. 1 heavyweight contender.

Ref's Decision Boiled Judge Jack Downey rated the fight a 115-115 tie under California's point system giving 10 to the winner of each round and 9 or less to the loser. Referee Frankie Carter was booed roundly for his 117-116 rating in favor of Machen.

The crowd of 15,000 finally cheered judge Fred Apostoli's rating of 117-115 in Folley's favor. Veteran boxing writer Eddie Muller of the San Francisco Examiner gave it to Folley by 114 to 113. The INS card showed Folley 116 and Machen 112, off on shy Bertoia, perhaps with the first eight rounds going through communication in Italian.

When Martin was obtained from the Kansas City Athletics last November, Tiger general manager John McHale was hopeful some of the infielder's well-known aggressiveness might rub off on shy Bertoia, perhaps with the first eight rounds going through communication in Italian.

Trouble With Dialects But there seems to be some trouble with dialects. "Reno and I don't have too many words in common," said Martin.

"All I know," commented Bertoia, "is the farther South you go in Italy the faster they talk."

Bertoia, who had to beat out Lou Skizas for the third-base position this spring, set the American League on fire in the early weeks of the 1957 season.

The 23-year-old infielder belted the ball at a .400 clip for a while. He ended the season with a .275 average. Bertoia had 16 doubles, two triples, four home runs and 28 runs batted in.

Bonus Rule May Have Hurt Tiger vice president Charley Gehring believes the bonus rule, which forced Bertoia to sit on the Detroit bench for two years, may have hurt the young infielder.

The Hall of Fame second baseman said: "If we could have farmed out Bertoia, he probably would have developed more rapidly into the great infielder he should be. It could be he never will mature because of that."

His early-season hitting wasn't the only thing that got Bertoia press notices last year. Front-page coverage was given to him for a time when it was learned he was taking tranquilizer pills to steady his nerves.

Bertoia says he doesn't take the pills anymore and doubts that he will take any during the '58 season.

Harshman Signs '58 Oriole Pact

BALTIMORE — Baltimore's Orioles, tanned and fit-looking after 1½ months in the Arizona sunshine, flew home to a welcoming crowd last night.

A crowd of several hundred persons turned out as the team arrived at 10:25 p. m. after an 8½-hour flight from their spring training base in Scottsdale, Ariz.

Before leaving Scottsdale, Oriole officials announced that southpaw pitcher Jack Harshman had signed his 1958 contract. Harshman, who has a back injury, had an 8-8 record with the Chicago White Sox last season.

The Orioles also optioned Jack Fisher, 19-year-old right-handed pitcher from Frostburg, Md., to Knoxville of the Class A Sally League.

'Campy' Sure He'll Be Able To Walk Again

By JOE REICHLER GLEN COVE, N.Y. — Roy Campanella is still not permitted to have visitors, outside of his family and a few close friends.

His wife Ruth explained: "The doctor thinks it's best, and so do I. Roy would love to see his friends. He is so eager to talk about baseball and the Dodgers. But the doctor feels it might prove harmful. He shouldn't be talking much and you know Roy. He might flare up with all the excitement. And there's always the danger of catching a cold, a virus..."

Three Daily Visits Mrs. Campanella had arrived at the Glen Cove Community Hospital for the first of her three daily visits. She's been making those visits for the past 10 weeks, ever since Campanella was injured in an automobile accident. He remains paralyzed from the waist down.

Inside the room, Campanella, his maimed body strapped to a turning rack in his bed, was lying on his back. He was almost completely immobile.

Frank Scott, business agent for many of the major league players and a close friend of the Campanella family, accompanied Ruth into the room.

The visit was limited to ten minutes. Scott reported that Campy looked just about the same as he did when the 1957 baseball season ended last September. His arms had thinned somewhat.

"Faith, Spirit Wonderful" "That fellow is a revelation," Scott said. "His faith and spirit is the most wonderful thing I've ever seen."

Campy is out of traction, Scott said. The tongs that held his broken back in place have been removed from his head, but the tube put into his throat after a tracheotomy is still there to help his respiration.

"Campy is convinced he's going to be able to walk again some day," Scott related. "Throughout our conversation he kept saying 'I'm going to make it, I'm going to make it... the good Lord will see me through...'"

Honest, he speaks with such faith and confidence that you get the feeling he will pull through."

The doctors still cannot say what the future holds in store for Roy. There are hopeful signs.

Duke Deacons In ACC Fray

The three top contenders in the Atlantic Coast Conference baseball race go to bat today to protect their unbeaten records. But at least one of them will head for the showers a little tarnished.

Two of the high squads will be in opposition, North Carolina State's Wolfpack (2-0) against Clemson's Tigers (3-0). Meanwhile, Duke's Blue Devils (3-0) play host in the ACC debut of sturdy Wake Forest, which is 6-2 in non-ACC games.

North Carolina's Tar Heels, who lost their ACC opener yesterday to Clemson 2-1, go against winless South Carolina. Another second division club, Maryland, takes on outsider George Washington to complete the schedule.

In yesterday's games, State's Wolfpack got off to a quick 2-0 lead in the second inning, added two more runs later and then quashed a South Carolina ninth-inning rally to win 4-3.

Frogs Victors In Dux Rolloff Frogs defeated Angle Bars by 20 pins in a special rolloff to determine the fourth-place team in the Western Maryland General Clerk's Bowling League.

Frogs had games of 626, 673 and 701 for a 2,000 total to the 631, 672 and 677 of 1,980 for Angle Bars. Jack Shriver led the winners with 167-442 while Wilda Parsons had 162-392. Leo Cover's 194-505 and Doris Long's 109-302 were tops for Angle Bars.

Dispatchers will meet Frogs while Signals oppose Streamliners in the semi-final rolloffs. The winners then meet for the championship.

A BUSY MAN IS HE—Chet Payne, Allegheny High coach, doesn't have his sports seasons confused. Payne will add baseball to his coaching duties for the Campers this year. He originally came to Allegheny as football mentor two years ago. But with the departure of Gene Shaw for a coaching position in New York last summer, Chet took over as both basketball and baseball boss, making him the first three-sport coach in the city since Alco's Bill Bowers handled all three chores back in 1945.

Conley Surprise To Haney, Snider Plays Nine Innings

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Towering pitcher Gene Conley has been a pleasant surprise so far in the spring and Milwaukee Braves Manager Fred Haney wants to get another good look at him.

Impressive all during the exhibition grind, the 6 foot 8 Conley allowed the Los Angeles Dodgers only one hit in two innings today in a game with Chattanooga of the Southern Assn.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — The Cincinnati Redlegs and the Washington Senators wind up their barnstorming exhibition series here today and there were some smiles in the Cincinnati camp even though outfielder Frank Robinson (Continued on Page 21)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — Boston slugger Ted Williams, who received 120 walks while topping the American League in batting with a .388 mark last season, didn't see many good pitches yesterday in his spring exhibition game debut.

The 39-year-old outfielder, still bothered by an ankle injury, drew two walks in pinch-hit appearances as the Red Sox belted their Memphis farm in the Southern Assn., 10-1.

Williams walked on a 3-2 pitch with the bases loaded in a four-run fifth. Then, with baseball rules relaxed, he went to bat again in the eighth and looked at four straight balls.

Manager Mike Higgins planned to use Williams as a pinch hitter.

YMCA Youth Legislature Begins Today

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A group of about 170 teenagers from throughout Maryland convened at the State House today for a three-day session of the Model Legislature sponsored by the YMCA.

They were to hear an address and receive a legislative program from their youth governor, William Philip Sitter of Cumberland. After he and other officers were sworn in by Secretary of State Claude B. Hollmann.

They'll be busy through Saturday drafting and introducing bills, studying them in committees and enacting them into laws patterned after actions of Maryland's grown-up General Assembly.

Sitter, their 18-year-old governor, is vice president of the national Hi-Y and Tri Hi-Y Congress. Legislative leaders working with him will be Robert T. Clark Jr. of Hagerstown, serving as president of the Senate, and Carole Ransom of Cumberland, speaker of the House.

Judge George Radcliffe of Baltimore, chairman of the YMCA's statewide youth and government committee, is scheduled to address the group after their officers are sworn in.

Also on the first day's program are chapel services at the Naval Academy with legislative chaplains of the houses presiding. Emily Tucker of Cumberland is chaplain of the Senate and Iris Patricia Overstreet of Hagerstown is chaplain of the House.

McElroy Goes To Europe For NATO Minister Meet

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy will leave tomorrow for a one-week trip to Europe where he plans to attend the NATO defense ministers meeting next week.

The secretary will be accompanied by his wife and joint chief of staff chairman, Gen. Nathan F. Twining and Mrs. Twining.

En route to the NATO meeting in Paris, April 15-18, McElroy will visit Thule Air Force Base, Greenland, and Keflavik Airport, Iceland. He will return to Washington April 19.

Scout Camp Session Held

Members of Troop 6, Boy Scouts of America, and Explorer Post 6, sponsored by the PTA of St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church, attended a winter camp last weekend at Camp Potomac near Oldtown.

Explorers attending were Thomas Finan Jr., John Zimowski, Charles Neus and Martin Rohman Jr. Scouts attending were William Ways, Larry Grabenstein, Robert McKenzie, Robert Kelley, John Milbrada, Charles Viney and Carl Rowe.

Thomas Struntz, scoutmaster; Owen Cavanaugh, assistant, and Edward Milbrada, advancement chairman, also attended.

Rev. Thomas Aquinas, OFM, Cap., assistant pastor of the church, celebrated mass Sunday.

The Scouts were instructed in woodcraft, stalking, trailing and other activities necessary for advancement to First and Second class.

Eisenhower End Recession Views Differ

Record Shows Ike Not Always Consistent With His Advice

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has spoken very firmly on buying things and streamlining the Defense Department although what he says one day may not sound exactly like what he said some previous day.

He has talked on both subjects at his news conferences over a period of months, starting last October.

Oct. 30—At this time, before the recession had deepened, he was asked for advice to housewives and consumers on how to cope with rising prices. He said: "I just believe in a period of rising prices like in any other thing, people should attempt to purchase less than when prices are going down."

Prices Go Higher
Between then and March the recession got deeper and prices went higher.

March 5—Eisenhower said: "I believe, of course, that the upturn in our economy will be the result of millions of citizens making their purchases, having greater confidence."

March 26—He said: "I believe that the American public now should be buying on the basis of the worth of the product that is offered them." He suggested business do a better packaging and advertising job to encourage buying.

On April 7 Secretary of the Treasury Anderson, speaking at the opening of a savings bond drive, urged people to buy bonds. He said those doing so are "simply temporarily transferring their purchasing power to the government."

April 9 — Asked what people should do to make the recession recede, Eisenhower said: "Buy." He was asked: "Buy what?" He said: "Anything."

Should Be Selective
Then, reminded that Anderson suggested people put their money in bonds, Eisenhower replied: "Well, I don't say you should buy carelessly. I said . . . let's be selective. . . . Let's take the things we need." He took a crack at manufacturers, suggesting they are trying to sell things people don't want.

He has spoken twice at some length on his plans for reorganizing the Defense Department. The first time was in January while the plans were still under study.

Jan. 15—He said: "Now my personal convictions, no matter how strong, cannot be the final answer. There must be a consensus reached with Congress . . . I would be the last to ask for a detailed organization in which I believe because, I think, organization has got to be effective after there has passed from the scene a man who happens to have particularly strong convictions in the matter."

Asked if he would or wouldn't fight for whatever plan he finally came up with, Eisenhower didn't say yes or no but did say, "My views will be expressed to the very best I can."

Stiff Opposition
Last week he sent his plan to Congress. It ran into some stiff opposition from Democrats and Republicans, particularly because of the power it would give Secretary of Defense McElroy.

April 9—Told some "very powerful men" of both parties in Congress were opposed to his plan, Eisenhower was asked how he intended to get it through Congress.

He said: "I don't care how strong or numerous they are. Here is something that is necessary. I would . . . get onto the air as often as the television companies would let me. I would keep it up until I would have the United States understanding that it is their pocketbook, first of all, more than that, it is their safety . . ."

"I don't care just who is against this thing. It just happens I have got a little bit more experience in military organization and the directing of unified forces than anyone else in the active list . . ."

EXPLORER HONORED—Defense Secretary Neil McElroy presents Dr. Paul A. Siple, famed Antarctic explorer, the Department of Defense Distinguished Civilian Service Award—the highest honor conferred on civilian employees.

Dr. Siple was cited for his contribution throughout the past 20 years to scientific knowledge of the Antarctic region. Siple resides in Arlington, Va.

Child Study Meeting Set At West Side

A parent-child study meeting will be conducted Wednesday of next week in West Side School. The session will be from 9 a. m. until 1 p. m.

Dr. John Kurtz, of the Child Study Institute at the University of Maryland, will be the consultant, according to Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel for Allegany County public schools.

Higgins said that since November 5 some 23 groups throughout the county have held six meetings. A final meeting will be held in Oldtown on May 6, he said.

Nine parents were trained by the county schools pupil personnel department assisted by consultants of the Child Study Institute.

Dependent upon interest indicated by parents, the relationship within the home will be taken up in the future, Higgins added.

Insurance Bid Clarified

Acting in his capacity as insurance consultant to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, Henry K. Duke has written identical letters to the six firms which recently submitted variable bids on the group insurance coverage for some 290 county employees.

Duke explained that all six will be furnished a complete census by age, sex, classifications and number of dependents, which is precisely the same as that on which the present policy is based. They also will get a review of the claim experience in all classical letters to the six firms of coverage for the past three years and a description of the coverage desired.

All six bidders are requested to submit bids on the basis of this specific information on or before April 21 so that the contract can be awarded before May 1.

Knights Name Delegates To State Session

Three member of Chief Justice Taney General Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, have been elected delegates to the state meeting in Baltimore on May 11.

They are Joseph Webb, Carl Firlie and Arthur Young. The men were elected Tuesday night during a meeting of the unit held at the home of Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus.

James J. Condon, faithful navigator, presided at the meeting. Alternates to the state meeting include James F. Quinn, Donald Murray, John Uhl and Stanley Fretwell.

Rev. Marius Elsener, OFM, Cap., pastor of St. Peter and Paul Church, spoke on "Our Responsibility to God, Ourselves, and Our Fellow Men as expressed in the Moral Law."

Past faithful navigators will be honored during a meeting May 13 at the home of Mt. Savage Council 1058, K.C. They are Carl Firlie, John Uhl, Wilbur Logsdon, Arthur Young, Donald Murray, Francis Heimeng, Robert Dawson, Joseph Webb and Stanley Fretwell.

The honor guard of the assembly has been invited to attend the closing of the Forty Hours' devotion at 7:30 p.m. May 13 at St. Peter and Paul.

After the devotion the guard will go to a meeting in Mt. Savage. Richard C. Mastrino of Frostburg Council 1442, K of C, was appointed publicity chair, man of the assembly to fill the unexpired term of Frank Werner who will serve in other capacities.

Mastrino in recent years was publicity chairman of the Maryland State Council of Knights of Columbus and of Frostburg Council.

He said the country must set "realistic" high employment goals and be prepared to accept normal fluctuations in the level of output and employment which are part of economic growth.

Some solution must also be found, he added, to the problem of labor monopoly and the pattern of wage determination in which both business and labor are now caught.

British Buy U. S. TV Shows, Cut Out Ads

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Goodman Ace, Perry Como's sense of humor, does his brooding in a penthouse terrace apartment. Instead of enjoying his view in all directions of Manhattan, Goodman was considering, with some disdain, the manner in which British TV brass were buying American TV shows and presenting them on the government-owned (meaning sponsorless) TV network.

Naturally, the commercial messages were chopped out of these shows — such as Burns & Allen. Goodie had been discussing this strange topic with a Britisher over here to study American methods. Naturally, Goodie would ask the gentleman what happened with the extra three minutes of each American show which here are dedicated to delectable and such.

"Oh, they fill it with something or other," his London friend explained. "One night last week they showed a waterfall."

Goodie asked how it looked. "Rather nice," the Britisher said, smiling in pleased reflection.

This three-minute Niagara between Grace Allen's witwits intrigued Goodie. He, too, reflected on the idea.

"Now don't get me wrong," he said. "I'm not seriously suggesting waterfalls as a possible new idea for TV in this country. If Coleen A. Bruner, 193 East Main Street, contended they became ill a buyer for a waterfall program, due to escaping gas fumes in other countries of aqua pura Lake."

Goodie thought a waterfall might be fine for England, where sensitivities just possibly may be edgier than ours.

Goodie said his British friend sighed that he'd like to find something between America's dangerous and poisonous gases and fumes escaped from the appliance when it was in use, said the declaration.

As a result the plaintiffs became "violently and dangerously ill" and had to have medical treatment. On a second count, the suit claims the defendant contracted to properly install a gas heater in the dwelling and failed to provide a flue or vent. Albert A. Doub is counsel for the plaintiffs.

Couple Files Damage Suit

A Frostburg couple is seeking $1,000 damages in a suit filed in Allegany County Court against William C. Bruner, and his wife, William C. Bruner, 193 East Main Street, contended they became ill a buyer for a waterfall program, due to escaping gas fumes in other countries of aqua pura Lake.

Defendant in the case is the Pen-Mar Gas and Appliance Service, 1108 Braddock Road, city. Last October 2, the defendant installed a gas heater in the plaintiff's dwelling.

It was installed in such a "negligent and careless manner" that dangerous and poisonous gases and fumes escaped from the appliance when it was in use, said the declaration.

As a result the plaintiffs became "violently and dangerously ill" and had to have medical treatment. On a second count, the suit claims the defendant contracted to properly install a gas heater in the dwelling and failed to provide a flue or vent. Albert A. Doub is counsel for the plaintiffs.

SCIENTIFIC SATELLITE—Above is the full-scale 20-inch satellite soon to be fired by Navy's Vanguard. The sub-miniaturized equipment mounted around the skin of the satellite and in the transparent container will permit many new studies of upper atmosphere. The satellite can never be recovered. All the information gathered will be turned into electric signals and broadcast by a miniature radio to the ground. Functions of instruments indicated above are: A—Operating on energy from sun will reset peak memory storage unit once each orbit. B—Narrow band for ultraviolet detector. C—Used for temperature measurement, resistance changes with temperature. D—Niche film (about 1-10,000 mm thick) measures surface erosion caused by impact of micro-meteorites. 1—Supplies link for continuously telemetering data from satellite to ground. 2—Magnetic cores used to store number of "counts" from meteoritic collision detector. 3—Samples various signal input channels and modulates the "Minitrack" radio tracking transmitter. 4—Peak memory unit. Magnetic cores store and code information gathered during one orbit for subsequent read-out when passing over recording stations. 5—Output signal from sensitive microphone used to detect collision with micro-meteorites. 6—Current amplifier for measuring ionization produced by ultraviolet solar flare radiation. Church Services Set For Inmates

Church services will be conducted at the Allegany County Jail for the next seven months by the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

Captain Daniel K. Biggs of the Salvation Army Citadel Corps is conducting the services during the month of April, beginning with Easter services the past Sunday.

A different clergyman has accepted responsibility for each of the succeeding months. They are Rev. Jacob H. Snyder, Kingsley Methodist, May; Rev. Russell E. Fink, St. John's Lutheran, June; Rev. Kenneth H. Grove, Emmanuel Methodist, July; Rev. Robert C. Nimmon, Grace Methodist, August; Rev. Robert M. Campbell, Piedmont Presbyterian, September, and Rev. Carlton M. Harris, Centre Street Methodist, October. Other clergymen who have agreed to answer calls to the County Jail for spiritual assistance are Rev. Archie C. Prevatte, First Baptist; Rev. W. Randolph Keefe, Grace Baptist; L. Richard A. McConnell, Salvation Army South Cumberland Corps; Rev. E. E. Miller, D.D., First Evangelical United Brethren; Rev. B. F. Hartman, Cumberland Methodist Circuit, and Rev. Wayne J. Eberly, Living Stone Church of the Brethren.

All Roman Catholic priests in the area are available on call whenever members of their particular parishes request them.

Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis said religious services have been conducted at the jail for a number of years but there have been times recently when confusion has arisen and more than one clergyman reported on some Sundays and none on others. This new schedule, effective April 1, is designed to eliminate confusion.

Four million U. S. retailers and other local advertisers invest about $2.5 billion a year in daily newspapers — more than they spend in all other advertising media combined.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for their kindness and expressions of sympathy following the death of our beloved husband and father, Harry R. McGowan, Westernport. We especially wish to thank Rev. E. E. Crowson, Victory Post 155 American Legion, Westernport and Kelly-Mansfield Post 52 American Legion, Piedmont those who donated the use of their cars, and to all who helped in any way.
Mrs. Harry McGowan
Mr. & Mrs. Charles McGowan
and Daughter

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to all our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown to us during the illness and following the death of our beloved brother, William Theodore Coston. We also wish to thank the nurses, nurses' aides and orderlies of Sacred Heart Hospital, the Rev. A. W. Bastress, the pallbearers, all those who sent flowers, mass cards, who donated the use of their cars or assisted us in any way.
Brother, Sisters & Families

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my wife, Pearl Kierulff, who passed away 11 years ago today.
I have lost my soul's companion.
A life linked with my own.
And day by day I miss her more.
At I walk through life alone.
Earle A. Kierulff

Father Given Jail Sentence

A Pennsylvania father was sentenced to two years in the Maryland House of Correction for non-support of his wife and daughter who reside in Cumberland.

Magistrate Fred H. Anderson imposed the sentence on Orma Phillips, 47, of Duncannon, Pa., at a hearing in Juvenile Court. The defendant indicated he will appeal the sentence, and is being held in Allegany County Jail pending the posting of a $500 bond.

Magistrate Anderson said yesterday's hearing was the fourth for Phillips since last October on like charges. He was given a suspended one-year sentence to the Maryland House of Correction at that time.

In November of 1957 Phillips again was brought before the court and the suspension was continued on the condition he support his family and be of general good behavior.

In February of this year Phillips once more received a continuation of the one-year suspended sentence and was fined $25.

Doolittle Son Found Dead

AUSTIN, Tex. - (INS) - An investigation was conducted today into the fatal shooting of Maj. James Doolittle Jr., 38, son of famed Lt. Gen. James Doolittle.

Maj. Doolittle, commander of the 534th Fighter Bomber Squadron of the 27th Fighter Wing, was found dead in his office at Bergstrom Air Force Base near Austin with a gunshot wound in his temple yesterday.

He had been shot with a .38 caliber service pistol which was lying at his side on the floor.

The body of Doolittle was discovered by Capt. Homer J. Merfeld when he entered Doolittle's office on business.

Air Force officials were seeking to determine whether the death was accidental or self-inflicted.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, April 11, 1958

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — When it is latent, initiative or energy that are needed, surely you people can supply all three (if you put your mind, heart and good will to it, as is your natural way). Today says DO!

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Don't stop after the plans are formulated; then in when more time and in the future are required. Give all the fair benefit of the doubt, but protect yourself from schemers.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Where there is a will, you know! However, remember that a strong-willed person can be wrong in the will of a small-minded, quick individual should be heeded. Judge carefully.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — You hear this: There will be penalties for indiscretion, heedlessness and misuse of talents. So you of bright mind and good reasoning, keep yourself in trim and shun the pitfalls.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — We cannot always be of material aid to others when we wish to be. It is to be, but we can always help spiritually, mentally and physically. These are God's gifts to use well, too.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Shun too hasty decisions, and note where there is room for various improvements, even in the smallest of things. Be sure you are not being misled.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Affairs of the heart and domestic matters may require more consideration, tolerance. While aspects are generally favorable, sensible caution is still in order. Forget annoyances.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio) — You will be able to overcome impediment, new ideas and energy; judgment that is clear and unhampered by old fears will be very effective. A good day for a good and steady you.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 23 (Sagittarius) — If at first you do not succeed, you know well from history that those who try many times, and each with greater conviction and determination, do make the grade. Forward!

DECEMBER 24 to JANUARY 23 (Capricorn) — Don't let foolish things interfere with a wise schedule or sensible plans for recreation. We all can be so guilty of time-and-talent-wasting. Take care in situations.

JANUARY 24 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Your planet Uranus, together with several other aspects, suggest you do all possible to promote rightly your qualities and assets. Neither be nervous nor unsure; on to success!

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — You thrive under responsibility and trust, and can carry them on thoughtfully, able shoulders. But don't seek to handle more than is wise for health's sake. Take all sound precautions.

YOU BORN TODAY possess unusual endurance, wit and ability to carry on against tremendous odds. May follow a path, be an important one in the industrial or trades world; could be gifted artist, scientist, skilled surgeon, agriculturalist. Whatever suits your fancy, you can turn to profit and an esteemed position. All if you live true to that with which God blessed you, and if you keep developing patience, harmonious cooperation with right associates and family, and curb too quickly speech or decisions. You are sincere, have a wonderful mind for higher education and leadership qualities.

Rhinehart of Charles Evans Hughes, American statesman and Edward Everett, American scholar and statesman. (King Features, Inc.)

Buses Rechecked By School Board

Buses which transport Allegany County public school children to and from classes are in the process of being rechecked after a regular inspection held last month.

Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of transportation, said the check is being made by Walter Walker, member of the maintenance crew of the county schools.

Quite a large number of steering and muffler defects resulted from the recent severe winter, Ramey said.

Today the buses of the Frostburg and Lonaconing areas were checked, and tomorrow those of Mt. Savage and Westernport will undergo inspection.

On Wednesday, Walker inspected the buses of Flintstone, Oldtown and Cumberland.

four-diamond response would have shown non, etc.). North's leap to seven was a bad bid. Seven diamonds would have been a lay-down. Dr. Richard Greene of New Orleans, who sat South, could only count 12 top tricks when he looked at dummy. He won the opening club lead in dummy and started diamond diamonds. On the third diamond West signaled with the nine of spades and Dick chose to believe that signal. Now the simple spade finesse was not going to work, but Dick could still make the hand by means of a Vienna coup if West should show up with the king of hearts. Dick decided that West would not have signaled so strongly in spades if he also held the king of hearts.

Dick still had one shot in his locker. He led the queen of hearts from dummy. East covered with the king and Dick won with the ace. The last two diamonds and all the clubs were cashed and Dick let his two little hearts go.

West ran out of plays on the last club. He chose to unguard his queen of spades by letting the jack of hearts go and Dick had made his grand slam by means of a transferred Vienna coup.

Incidentally, the play is so rare that I have seen it only twice before in my 40 years of play.

County Entered In Soil Contest

The national soil conservation awards program sponsored by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of Akron will be entered by the Allegany County Soil Conservation District, according to Floyd Buser, district chairman.

Members of the Allegany County district will compete against other soil conservation districts in the state. Non-partisan judging committees, selected from Maryland's outstanding exponents of the soil conservation movement, will determine the state's outstanding district for the period from May 1, 1957, to April 30, 1958 on the basis of total points scored in performance of regular district duties.

Grand award for one member of the winning district governing body in each of the 50 competing units and the top co-operating farmer or rancher named by that district, will be an expense-free vacation trip to Goodyear's winter resort, the Wigwam Guest Ranch on Goodyear Farms, Litchfield Park,
